Domestic Drama Not Without Comedy Features Enacted On Thompson Hill.

FLIGHT, FIGHT AND OTHER COMPLICATIONS

An erring wife and her companion were surprised last night by the husband at a house on Vine street, where they had taken rooms and were living, as they thought, in impenetrable seclusion. The appearance was followed by scenes bordering on the melodramatic, and the usual quietude of Thompson hill was disturbed until the trio left for Wellsville this morning. That murder was avoided is the most surprising feature of the episode.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davis purchased a home on Vine street a short time ago and advertised the rooms on the second floor for rent. There were a number of applicants and from them Mr. and Mrs. Davis selected a couple giving their names as Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Tomosco. They rented the entire upper floor and furnished the rooms for light housekeeping. Tomosco appeared to be a foreigner and it was later learned that he was born in Austria and followed the profession of a china painter. Mrs. Tomosco was a comely woman of about 30 years. There were no children.

That they were not what they claimed to be was not once suspected by Mr. and Mrs. Davis, and only on one or two occasions were their actions out of the ordinary. Mrs. Tomosco seemed to be depressed in spirits and spent most of the time weeping. She did not confide her troubles to Mrs. Davis further than to state that she was lonely without her little daughter, a child of a former marriage, and that she had been divorced from her first husband. Tomosco objected to her leaving their apartments and was usually at hand to prevent her telling strangers anything of their past lives.

The denouement came last night about 6 o'clock and was attended by a scene rarely enacted outside of books of fiction. A stranger presented himself at the Davis home and after learning that Mr. and Mrs. Tomosco were there, asked to see them. He asked that Mrs. Davis accompany him upstairs and from his tone and manner Mrs. Davis had a foreboding of what was about to happen. When the door of the apartment was opened by Mrs. Tomosco there was a scene of wild confusion. With stern bearing the stranger exclaimed: "I demand my lawful wedded wife," while the couple retreated to the remotest corner of the room. Mrs. Davis was horror-stricken, expecting every moment to witness a terrible tragedy. The stranger contented himself, however, with making

CHANGES NEEDED AT CITY HALL

A Rearrangement of Office Accommodations Will Probably be Made.

DANGER AT THE CITY JAIL

To be sworn in and organize by electing officers, the board of public safety, W. L. Taylor, D. M. Ogilvie, J. H. Grafton and J. H. Dawson, will meet in the mayor's office this evening. They assembled there last evening, but nothing of an official nature was done, it being the desire to defer business until they were qualified.

One member of the board when questioned as to what the initial step of the body would be replied that he was entirely ignorant of any future action and would be content to wait developments. He, however, intimated that it would be the endeavor of the board to have office quarters changed materially around the city hall and other changes made. It is likely that the board will for the present occupy the mayor's sanctum, but they think the room entirely too small, and if they conclude to meet permanently with the mayor they will undoubtedly provide more commodious quarters for that official.

Chief of Police Wyman has a commendable idea on one alteration that should be made at the city hall, and it is not unlikely that the board will be called upon to consider it. The chief has become convinced that the quarters used for the confinement of female prisoners are from several standpoints decidedly inadequate. The quarters are located in the frame addition to the city building, and are of frail structure. Close beside them is a gas stove and in several parts of the addition there are gas jets which are kept burning every night.

If some paper or a portion of the frame work would catch fire some night while the cells contained a prisoner and no officer happened to be around the building, Mr. Wyman asks, What would prevent the prisoner from cremation? She could not possibly get out and the apartment being of dry wood would burn quickly and fiercely. It is easily to be seen that the fate of the prisoner would be sealed. The quarters are open to the rain and blasts, throwing a prisoner in an unhealthy predicament. These things, considered from a humane basis, will

Woman Alleged to Have Sent the Deadly Compound is Arrested.

Cincinnati, May 14.—(Special)—Mrs. Lucy McCormick, who Mrs. Kate Nobbe alleges, sent her poisoned whisky, which five expressmen drank, was arrested at Memphis today. Mrs. Nobbe alleges Mrs. McCormick was jealous of her and identified her hand writing on the express card.

Mrs. McCormick denies the deed. Three expressmen are expected to die.

HUSBAND ACCUSED OF IDLENESS AND NEGLECT

A West Township Woman Brings Suit For Divorce, Telling Sad Story.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—Cora E. Gottschall, living near Bayard, West township, has sued for divorce from William Gottschall, asking the custody of their two daughters aged 4 and 2 respectively. Mrs. Gottschall says they were married November 19, 1898, at Minerva. She alleges that since November 25, 1900, her husband has been guilty of gross neglect by reason of idleness and dissipation, and refusing to live with his family or contribute to their support.

The wife says she has been compelled to depend for support on her own labor and on the charity of relatives. C. S. Speaker is her attorney.

ITS LEGALITY IS ASSAILED

Allegation That the Ordinance for C. A. Smith's Street Railway is Invalid.

INJUNCTION TO BE ASKED

In a communication which was submitted to City Solicitor George B. Davidson shortly after noon today, exceptions are taken to the legality and validity of the ordinance passed several weeks ago granting C. A. Smith the privilege of erecting a street car line to the East End. It is contended that the move is a ruse on the part of the East Liverpool & Wellsville line to delay temporarily the building of the road and prevent its ever being built if possible.

Mr. Smith has been cognizant of the move for some time and anticipates no trouble whatever in the matter. The people want the road, a fact displayed by the numberless petitions presented to council at the time the ordinance was passed, and are going to have it. Solicitor Davidson states that he will not take any action in the matter, positively refusing to accede to the demand of those who have raised the cry.

The petition is as follows:

East Liverpool, Ohio, May 13, 1903.

George E. Davidson,
City Solicitor of East Liverpool.

Dear Sir:—

I hereby inform you that I am advised and believe that the ordinance passed by the city council of the city of East Liverpool, March 11, 1903, purporting to grant certain rights and privileges upon the streets and highways of said city, to one C. A. Smith and his assigns, is invalid and illegal. I therefore request you, as the city solicitor of said city, to apply in the name of said City of East Liverpool to a court of competent jurisdiction for an injunction against the City of East Liverpool, William A. Weaver, as mayor of said city; John N. Taylor, William L. Smith and Jacob

THE BROTHERHOOD WELL SATISFIED

Work of the Wheeling Convention Meets With General Approval.

MENCE, THE SECRETARY

Will Shortly Remove to This City And Enter Upon His Official Duties. Return of the Local Delegates. Personal Gossip.

Almost all of the delegates from East Liverpool in attendance upon the thirteenth annual convention of the N. B. of O. P. reached home yesterday afternoon and evening. A few of them remained until today. There was a general exodus from the city during yesterday afternoon among the delegates from both east and west and in the majority of cases the first train was none too soon for a start towards home. All the Trenton delegates, except those who will spend a few days here with friends, left Wheeling yesterday afternoon at 3:55 o'clock.

The newly-elected executive board held a brief meeting in Wheeling yesterday afternoon to pass upon some matters referred to it by the convention. Nothing of importance was transacted. The members of the board took advantage of the occasion to become better acquainted. All the members save President Duffy, First Vice President Hutchins and Third Vice President Hailes have never served as national officers and the duties are practically unknown to them.

Another peculiar feature was developed in the election of officers. First Vice President Frank Hutchins is the only one of the entire list of new officials to retain his old position. Secretary Duffy being advanced to president and Harry Hailes from fourth to third vice president.

Mr. Hutchins had made arrangements to come to East Liverpool with the local delegation and remain a few days renewing old acquaintances. He had planned this in view of the fact that the meeting of the executive board was to have been held here, but when this plan was altered and the meeting held in Wheeling, he decided to go directly to Trenton. There is not a more popular man in the organization than Mr. Hutchins and the increase in the salary of the first vice president and his re-election to that office is pleasing news to his host of friends.

Ex-President Hughes will remain in Wheeling, probably until Saturday, the guest of near relatives. He will spend several weeks here before going to Columbus to assume his duties of manager of the new Columbus pottery. Mr. Hughes has a host of friends in Wheeling, it being his former home. President Duffy is also a former Wheelingite and he experienced many happy reunions with old friends. He will at once enter upon his new work as the highest officer of the Brotherhood.

A MASS MEETING TO BE HELD HERE

To Boom the Project of Making the Ohio River Navigable—Col. Vance and Others Will Speak.

Colonel John L. Vance, president of the Ohio River Improvement association, with headquarters at Cincinnati, makes the announcement that mass meetings are to be held in all of the cities bordering on the river during the coming summer. Among the first will be the one in this city which will be held during the latter part of June. The day following a meeting will be held in Wellsville.

Colonel Vance has taken up the work tenaciously and by his unrelenting persistency he hopes before many years to see the entire Ohio navigable every week in the year. He has been working to that end for the past five years and is now devoting practically his entire time to it. Colonel Vance is getting up in years and fondly hopes to see that his efforts will bring about the great improvement before he succumbs to the inevitable. Upon his visit to this city he will be accompanied by a number of silver-tongued orators and the event will be

DAMAGE SUIT NOW ON TRIAL

Washingtonville Dispute Between Landlord and Tenant Reaches Court.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—The case of Horace G. Tetlow against George W. Allen, which came up from the court of Mayor Jonathan Longbottom, of Washingtonville, was tried before a jury today. The plaintiff says that on July 26, 1902, the defendant forcibly entered a dwelling house which the plaintiff was occupying and kept him and his family from possession of the house and from the use of their household effects for some time, causing the goods to be damaged by disuse.

Tetlow asks $100 damages. It seems that he rented the house and the trouble arose over a disagreement between the landlord and the tenant.

EVENTFUL DAY FOR THIS COUNTY

Columbiana County Men Went Off to and Honors in Several Meetings.

ELKS AND OTHER ORDERS

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, May 14.—Salem and East Liverpool have certainly figured prominently in the public eye during the last two days. In addition to the election of Dr. A. C. Yengling, of Salem, as department commander of the G. A. R. and John J. Rose, of East Liverpool, as commander of the Sons of Veterans at Marietta, T. T. Church, of Salem, was re-elected treasurer of the State Homeopathic Medical society; W. F. Crossley, of Salem, was elected second vice president of the Independent Telephone Traffic company; C. F. Smith, exalted ruler of the Salem lodge of Elks, was elected a director of the Ohio Association of Elks, the last three bodies having met in this city yesterday. Altogether yesterday was an eventful day for the Columbiana county man. It was certainly his day. The selection of Messrs. Yengling and Rose as the heads of their respective organizations gives satisfaction hereabouts. Their elevation to these high offices is a great honor to each.

District Deputy L. P. Metzger, of Salem, and Exalted Ruler C. F. Smith, of Salem, and Hon. W. V. Blake, of East Liverpool, were the representatives of their respective lodges at the annual meeting of the Elks' association. All three gentlemen spoke at the gathering against the proposition to memorialize the national grand lodge to establish state grand lodges, which when put to a vote lost by a two to one majority. The next convention will be held at Lima. The election of officers resulted: President, E. H. Archer, Columbus; vice president, Thomas Trainer, Zanesville; secretary, J. M. Arndt, Lima; treasurer, George M. Henry, Steubenville. Deputy Metzger was placed on a committee on good of the order.

Messrs. Ambrose Massey and Charles C. Spaulding, the former representing Osceola council, Daughters of Pocahontas, and the latter representing Iroquois tribe, both of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Massey and Mrs. John T. Wright, all of East Liverpool, arrived here last night from Circleville, where they attended the Great Council of Red Men. They returned home this morning. Past Grand Sachem John Stamm, of East Liverpool, arrived here this morning from Circleville. Mansfield gets the next meeting.

Lowest Stage for the Year.

The lowest stage of water for the year was recorded today, the marks showing less than six feet in the channel. There is no immediate prospect for a substantial rise and the movements of the packets are seriously interfered with. The Ben Hur has been compelled to go to the bank, the little steamer Bessie Smith taking her trade. She is due down tonight at 8 o'clock. The Greenwood was built for a low water packet and has a much lighter draught than other boats her size. She is due up at 3 o'clock tonight.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—William G. Steele, as assignee of William Steele, has given an order of appraisement on Lisbon real estate. Appraisers, H. V. George, W. C. Morrow and H. D. Frew.

AN ISSUE OF BONDS TO RELIEVE THE CITY WILL MEET WITH FAVOR

Council Expected to Act Upon the Matter Tonight. Necessity for Such Action.

The adjourned meeting of council this evening will be one of the most important held by a councilmanic body in this city for a lengthy period. The express purpose of the meeting will be to provide a plan by which money can be obtained to wipe out a portion of the city's enormous indebtedness.

Various ideas have been expressed by the members of council and other city officials but the consensus of opinion now is that the only remedy for the situation will be to issue bonds to cover the amount and Solicitor Davidson spent some time today in preparing the necessary formulas.

A provision of the code makes compulsory a vote of the people on such issues and council has determined to set a date for a bond election at the meeting tonight. They have not determined on the exact date but will not defer it longer than absolutely necessary.

As before stated the indebtedness which council wishes to cover aggregates something over $59,000, but as the interest is piling up it has been decided to make the vote for a $60,000 issue and if it carries there will be sufficient money in the city's treasury to place the several funds which have been so greatly overdrawn on a sound basis and the dilemma will be relieved.

A member of the tax commission stated last evening that the financial business of the city has been carried on for years in strict violation of the law and that not only the city officials, but the banking concerns from which they have borrowed money could be prosecuted for allowing the transaction of the business, which he declared was illegal, not only under the provisions of the code, but always has been.

It is well known by the official brethren that money cannot be paid for salaries, etc., unless it be in the fund designated for such payment. The allegation is made and not denied that heretofore a warrant would be issued for the payment of the policemen's salaries and notwithstanding that there was no money in the treasury credited to the police fund, the amount would be drawn from the general fund and paid. Such action is illegal and will not be tolerated in the future, making it necessary for the bond issue.

The banks that have been lending the money on the city's notes at 7 per cent interest will reap no more such harvests. President Taylor, of the board of public service, made a query at the meeting last night, "Why is it that a private citizen can borrow and unlimited amount upon the payment of 6 per cent and the city cannot get a cent unless 7 per cent is agreed to?"

CHANCE TO BE MADE AT UNION POTTERY

PLANT SHUT DOWN IN ORDER TO EFFECT IT.

Hereafter This Factory Will Make a Complete Line of Dinner Ware.

All the departments of the local plant of the Union Pottery company, Broadway and East Fifth streets, excepting the ware dressers and packers, have suspended while a change is being made from scheme to a dinner line. The alterations necessary will require at least two weeks' time.

This plant has been making nothing but scheme ware for several years, like the Chelsea plant, in the same company, until a few months ago. It is stated that the scheme order expired on the first day of this year and was not renewed. At any rate, the plant here has not been in full operation since that time.

The result of this change will be that a number of additional operatives, principally pressers and dish makers, will be added to the present force. The number of journeymen will remain the same, which insures an increased output.

Several local designers have submitted bids and designs for the new pieces necessary and the contract will be given in a few days. The present line of flats will be added to until it is made a full dinner line. Later several entirely new shapes will be brought out.

Appealed from Wellsville Court.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—The case of Matthias Glaser, against the Pennsylvania company has been appealed from Justice W. F. Hanev's court in Wellsville. It is alleged by the plaintiff that the company owes him $69.50 with interest from November 8, 1902, by reason of the transfer to him of an indebtedness of the company to Stephen Kalina for labor. The plaintiff got judgment for the full amount in the justice's court. Judge P. M. Smith is the plaintiff's attorney. Carey & Mullins represent the defendant.

At a Bankers' Meeting.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—Ross Firestone, of Firestone Bros. bank, went to Columbus today to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Ohio Bankers' association. He expects to return here Monday, accompanied by his wife, who has been in a sanitarium at Marion, O., since last fall. Mrs. Firestone's health is said to be much improved.

News and Notes About The Potteries

SECOND POTTERY AT CAMERON.

The deal for the pottery plant which is to be built in the Nichols addition in the East End has been consummated and the capital stock has been subscribed and the contracts for the building have been signed, says a Cameron, W. Va., special J. S. Paulson, of Sebring, who is superintending the erection of the building for the same company's plant in the West End, made the above statement and said work on the foundation for their building in the East End would be started within the next 10 days. When the two factories are completed and in operation they will employ about 600 people. The manager expects to have the pottery in the West End in operation by the 15th of July.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

The Electric Porcelain works is making extensive improvements and alterations to its plant on Elm street. The two porcelain kilns will be finished this week, with the exception of the band irons that are to be placed around the stacks. The building that will be erected is to be put up in the rear of the plant and will be of brick, two stories in height, and will cover a space of ground 60x80 feet. The building will contain the grog pans and other expensive machinery, and the total amount of money to be expended is $15,000. The kilns are badly needed, as the company is rushed with orders.

A ROOSEVELT JARDINIER.

The Wheeling Potteries company designers are now at work on a new jardiner, christened the Roosevelt jardiner, which will not be publicly exhibited until the World's fair at St. Louis next year, where this company will have a large and varied exhibit of its products. The design will be much more elaborate than the Dewey jardiner, presented to the admiral on his visit to Wheeling in 1900.

A FAMOUS SHRINE IN AN OHIO TOWN

AN UNPRETENTIOUS CHURCH ATTRACTS MANY PILGRIMS.

The Sick And Afflicted Yearly Flock to Carey to Seek Relief.

Carey, O., May 14.—For the past three days the patrons' feast, a ceremony that attracts a large amount of attention and has made the town of Carey famous, has been in progress here. On the last day occurs the general pilgrimage when the sick and afflicted from all parts of the country visit the shrine of Our Lady of Consolation Church with the hope that they may be miraculously cured.

It is not generally known that in this little village there is located one of what are known as two healing shrines in the United States, and that scarcely a day goes by but the lame, sick or blind seek relief before its altar. The church is an unpretentious affair of frame and yet its rude construction and uninviting appearance do not in the least detract from its exclusive distinction.

The power to heal is attributed to a fac simile of the Luxembourg statue of the Holy Virgin and her child, which is accredited to be of divine origin. The statue here also contains a part of the original, which was obtained by papal decree expressly for the purpose. In the sixteenth century the European province of Luxembourg was visited by a pestilence. The survivors erected a church to the memory of the Holy Virgin. When the dedication day arrived a statue of the Holy Virgin and her child was found upon the altar. It was accepted as of divine origin and many miraculous cures are attributed to it.

Among the many people from the vicinity of Luxembourg who migrated to the United States, a colony settled at Carey. This little band determined to build a church and the structure was started in 1896. Owing to a lack of funds the work was suspended after the foundation had been completed and it remained in this condition for six years. Father Gloden, who was located at the nearby town of Berwick, took the matter up and succeeded in raising the necessary funds to complete the work and in 1875 it was ready to dedicate.

The colony from Luxembourg urged Father Gloden to make a pilgrimage to the mother country and endeavor to secure a piece of the original statue of the Virgin and her child. The priest consented, and a trip for the special purpose was made. Success not only crowned his efforts, but he had a fac simile of the statue made in which he embodied a small piece from the original.

Pope Leo has further endowed the church by recognizing it officially as a pilgrimage church. He has recognized it still further by sending direct from Rome, with duly authenticated letters, an antependium and altar outfit. The antependium is of the finest silk, embroidered in gold, and bears the coat of arms of the pope—the tiara, the cedar tree, and stars—Lumen de Coelo—"Light from Heaven." The antependium is hung in a prominent place before the altar.

The fourth Sunday after Easter, the ceremony, which is styled the patrons' feast, was observed. It was participated in by a number of visiting priests.

MAY BE NO STRIKE

Negotiations Renewed Between Officials and Men on Great Northern.

CONCESSIONS WERE OFFERED

By the Company and Action Is Deferred Until After Conference—Business Men's Committee Is Responsible for Present Conditions.

St. Paul, May 14.—No strike was declared on the Great Northern railway and affairs have assumed a much more encouraging aspect. Negotiations between the committee representing the men and the officials of the road, which were broken off on Tuesday, have been renewed and the outlook is for an amicable settlement. Neither side will say what concessions, if any, have been offered by the road, but that concessions have been offered and that they are more favorable than any made previously is evidenced by the fact that the calling of a strike has been deferred until after the conference.

The committee of business men from St. Paul and Minneapolis which Tuesday night secured the consent of the grievance committee to attempt to bring about an amicable arrangement of the difficulty is understood to be largely responsible for present conditions. They held a conference with the grand officers and the general committee during the day. The demands of the men were discussed. Messrs. Garretson and Newman, representing respectively the conductors' association and the trainmen's brotherhood, fully explaining their side of the controversy. The stand they took was that all other trans-continental roads have granted the demands made by the unions with reference to the running of double headers, and that if the Great Northern should be given greater concessions than have been granted the other roads the latter will charge a breach of faith on the part of the grand officers. The business men's committee urged the men to refrain from tying up the road.

Mr. Garretson declared that the men would not allow any one to exceed them in yielding, once a spirit of yielding should be shown by the company. He further stated that all preparations had been made for the declaration of a strike and that unless some tangible offer were made on behalf of the company looking to concessions of a satisfactory character a strike would be declared.

After their conference with the men the business men's committee waited on General Manager F. E. Ward and heard the company's side of the case. Then a conference was arranged between the general manager and the grievance committee, at which members of the business men's committee were also present. This conference lasted until evening and at its close Chairman Cooper, of the business men's committee, announced that Mr. Garretson had given assurance that no strike would be ordered and that the conference would be resumed at 10 o'clock in the morning, with every prospect of a successful termination.

While all those who were present at the conference were extremely reticent, it was learned from an authoritative source that concessions satisfactory to the men had been offered by the road and that all that remained to be done was to decide upon certain matters of detail.

SEEKS TO GARNISHEE

Young Woman After the Property of Edward Shive, Who Left Lisbon Suddenly.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special.)—The case of Miss Carlisle, of Lisbon, against Edwin Shive, in which the plaintiff seeks to garnishee property alleged to belong to the defendant and to be now in the hands of Lavin Cope, of Lisbon, was submitted to Judge Ambler yesterday afternoon. Shive was a partner of Cope in the mercantile business here and on his disappearance on the night of April 17 when he learned that Miss Carlisle was about to prefer a charge against him, Cope, she alleges, disposed of all his belongings, including notes aggregating $500, to him.

The court now has under advisement the question whether the holder of these notes can be made to pay a judgment in favor of the young woman. W. H. Spence is the plaintiff's attorney.

DISCOVERED A LEAKING BOTTLE

And Drank Contents—One Dead at Hospital and Others in Serious Condition.

Cincinnati, May 14.—As the result of drinking what they thought was whisky five men employed at the Adams Express warehouse were poisoned, one dying at the hospital. The other four men are in a serious condition.

A bottle was received from Memphis addressed to Kate Nobbe in this city. In handling the bottle J. B. Ficker discovered a leak and remarked, "This is a nice bottle of booze—too good to let go to waste."

One of the men procured a tin cup and each took a drink. They became violently ill in a few moments and were rushed to the city hospital. Ficker died on arriving there, while William Stevens, George Eberle, Louis Burbank and William Daly are reported in a serious condition. When seen Mrs. Nobbe said: "I can't say what the bottle contained, but it was undoubtedly sent by a woman who is employed by a relative of mine in Memphis. He visited me three weeks ago and since that time I have been receiving packages and obscene letters from Memphis. It is jealousy on her part."

Mrs. Nobbe is employed at the Honing hotel here. It was found that the bottle contained arsenic and whisky.

Salem Man Elected.

Marietta, O., May 14.—Dr. A. C. Yengling, of Salem, O., was elected department commander, G. A. R., of Ohio, over B. M. Moulton, of Lima, by a vote of 277 to 249. C. H. Newton, of Marietta, was elected senior vice commander; John T. Booth, of Cincinnati, junior vice commander. The place of next meeting has not been selected, but Tiffin is conceded to be the place. The attendance is the largest in the history of the Grand Army of Ohio. The parade was two miles long.

Body Will Be Exhumed.

Lorain, O., May 14.—At a conference between Detectives Mintz and Goldsmith, Coroner French and County Prosecutor Stroup, at Elyria, it was decided to exhume the body of Agatha Reichman at Elyria. This action is taken to satisfy the authorities as to whether Miss Reichman had been choked into unconsciousness before she had been assaulted with the heavy stone.

EMPLOYERS FORM ASSOCIATION

Members Banded Together to Fight Organized Labor in Kansas City.

Kansas City, May 14.—The 6,000 employers of labor in this city have banded together to fight the members of labor unions who use the boycott to gain their ends and have organized "The Employers' Association."

The association decided to refuse to deliver goods to those places where non-union men or non-union made goods are discriminated against. This action has resulted from a brewing company, employing union men, refusing to deliver beer to a hotel bar until the union was recognized. A member of the association retaliated by refusing to deliver ice to the saloons handling this particular brewing company's beer, with the result that the delivery of beer to the offending hotel was immediately resumed. Several persistent boycotts have been laid against restaurants and various branches of trade in Kansas City within the past year because of refusal of employers to recognize unions.

Uncle Reuben's Opinion.

"They may say what they please, but listen—hear me: I've taken all kinds of laxatives, purgatives and cathartics but when it comes to one that is easy and pleasant to take, mild and gentle in its action, and that makes one want an extra slice of bacon for breakfast, just give me Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and you may have all the laxative syrups, dyspepsia medicines and pills, little or big, there is in this country. Them Tablets surely do make one feel joyful." For sale by Alvin & Bulger.

PATROL WAGON CALLED

To Take a Victim of Cramps From the Harker Pottery to His Home.

Charles Morrow, a presser, employed at the Harker pottery, was seized with an acute attack of the cramps this morning, and it was necessary to summon the patrol to convey him to his home on Elm street.

Dr. Clark was summoned and alleviated the man's terrible suffering and it is thought he will be recovered before night.

Aged Lady Near Death.

The death of Mrs. Lettie Walton, of Erie street, is momentarily expected. It was thought she could not last over night and since 6:30 o'clock this morning she has been unconscious. Mrs. Walton is 66 years old and became ill shortly after coming to the home of her son, about two weeks ago from Marietta. Mrs. Walton has a large number of relatives in the East End.

Supper and Social.

The family of Alex G. Chafin moved to the James West farm, near Calcutta, which Mr. Chafin recently purchased.

B. R. Larkins has moved from Erie street to the property on Pennsylvania avenue which he purchased a short time ago.

Joy reigns in the household of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Finley, of St. George street, over the arrival of baby boy, born this morning.

Henry Chambers is excavating for a six-room house, W. C. Smith is also putting one up alongside it. Both houses are to be built on Erie street.

John Williamson, of Chaffinville, who had his fingers so badly mashed in Schmelzenbach's stone quarry, is getting along nicely. Only one of the fingers will be crippled.

THE CONFERENCE

WHOLLY HARMONIOUS

Rivermen and Government Engineers Agree in Regard to East Liverpool Bridge Plans.

In regard to locating the new bridge, which is intended to span the Ohio river at East Liverpool, the conference between the projectors, the bridge committee of Harbor 25 and the United States engineers appears to have been a harmonious one, says a report from Pittsburg.

The bridge committee of Harbor 25 agreed to accept the site proposed by the bridge company, with the understanding that the first pier on the West Virginia side be located at the water's edge, with the second pier 800 feet out on the river, which will be the channel span.

It is expected that the site proposed with the piers located as suggested by the harbor committee will be satisfactory to all, with the exception possibly of the bridge company, which claims that the change in the location of the piers will add somewhat to the cost of the bridge. The matter is now in the hands of the United States engineers.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Huband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." Sale by Alvin & Bulger.

RESTORES PLEASING PLUMPNESS

Mi-o-na Sold Under Druggist Will Read's "No Cure No Pay" Plan.

A man or woman might as well starve outright as to take food into the stomach and not have it digested, yet in East Liverpool, as well as in every other town and city, there are many people who are thin, pale and seem underfed, simply because the food they eat is not digested, the stomach is too weak to do its proper work, and the food fails to make good blood and firm flesh.

Mi-o-na, the wonderful flesh-forming food and scientific remedy for the cure of dyspepsia, taken after meals, mingles with the food and enables it to assimilate and be readily digested so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness. No one can use it for a week or ten days without a noticeable gain in weight. It is the only remedy used in the treatment of stomach troubles where the money is refunded if it does not cure. Statistics show that out of every hundred people who commence the use of Mi-o-na, 98 will find a gain in weight and a restoration of health and strength.

Any one who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, who has to take thought as to what to eat, and when, or who is thin, weak, scrawny and amaused can place 50c on deposit with Will Reed and take home a box of Mi-o-na. If the remedy does not regulate digestion, cure dyspepsia and give a noticeable increase in good, firm flesh, he will refund the money without any questions.

BODY IN THE WELL

Italian's Story of Murder in a Fight at Empire May Prove True.

Toronto, May 14.—At Empire, three miles from here, a fight occurred a month ago, among Italians in an old planing mill. A young Italian claimed his 15-year-old brother had been murdered and thrown in a deep old well inside the mill. A partial investigation was then made, but nothing found. Last night workmen cleaning out the well found blood and a piece of a man's gory scalp, while the awful stench was such that work had to be suspended. There now seems little doubt but the man's body is in the well.

LOCAL FEDERATION ENTERTAINS

Senator Hanna, Archbishop Ireland and John Mitchell Make Addresses.

New York, May 14.—The executive committee of the local federation entertained the visiting committee at dinner at the Ashland house. Lewis Nixon, chairman of the executive committee, presided. Senator Hanna, Archbishop Ireland and John Mitchell were among the speakers.

Senator Hanna said labor troubles are to be deplored because they threaten the commercial supremacy of the country and Archbishop Ireland added that Europe is hoping that labor strikes will restore to Europe the markets of the world, now being

SENATOR MARCUS A. HANNA, threatened by American competition. "In New York," Senator Hanna said, "the situation is far from hopeless and I simply wish to make an appeal to you, gentlemen of the local federation, to stand upon the principle just put forth by the national federation that if the employer and employee are honest with each other difficulties will soon be ended."

Archbishop Ireland, President J. D. Underwood, of the Erie, and John Mitchell urged the conciliation committee of the local body to use all endeavor to bring about a settlement of the reported difficulties in the building trades.

Potters Elect Officers and Adjourn. Wheeling, May 14.—The convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters adjourned after completing the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Second vice president, William Elder, East Liverpool, O.; third vice president, H. W. Hales, Wheeling; fourth vice president, George Dix, Trenton, N. J.; fifth vice president, Elmer Wooten, East Palestine, O.; sixth vice president, Joseph T. Cotton, East Liverpool, O.; secretary, Edward Menge, Wheeling; treasurer, Aaron Coleman, East Liverpool.

GIVES RELIEF QUICKLY

Regular Use of Hyomei Cures Most Stubborn Case of Catarrh.

No other medicine gives such prompt relief as Hyomei in the treatment of catarrh.

The first breath of this remedy soothes and heals the irritated and smarting air passages, and the regular use for a few days or weeks will cure the most stubborn case. Some of the reports from those who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei read like miracles.

John S. Gray, of Richmond Hills, Pa., writes: "I am 82 years old and have been a sufferer with catarrh in the head for 25 or 30 years. I have doctored with many specialists and they all told me that the disease was incurable on account of my age. After using Hyomei a short time I was greatly benefited and now can say that I am entirely cured. It has now been six months since I stopped using the remedy and I still remain cured."

In nearly every town and village of the country can be found those who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. In East Liverpool there are probably over a thousand people whose health has been restored by this remarkable treatment.

Will Reed has sold package after package and every one has been with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not cure. Only two outfits have been returned and in each instance the money was paid back without question.

You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei and your word decides the question as to whether you pay for the remedy or not.

Can you afford to suffer longer with catarrh when you can buy a guaranteed treatment on this plan?

MAY HAVE BEEN MASSACRED

Denver Man Has Grave Fears Regarding Safety of Mother, Sister and Brother.

Denver, May 14.—From a letter written by his father in a hospital at Kishinev, Russia, W. King, of this city, learns that his mother, sister and brother may have been victims of the recent massacre in which hundreds of women and little children were slaughtered by the Russians. Mr. King's father was badly injured and is now in the hospital.

"I can learn nothing of your mother or sister or brother," he writes. "I fear they are among the victims. The street ran with blood. Children were dragged from their mothers' arms and hurled against the sides of buildings. Women were caught and slashed to bits by the frenzied Christians. The cry was 'Down with the Jews.' I saw a mother cut open and her unborn babe thrown against a railroad train. Women were held by men while they were mutilated. The number killed will be more than 600. Thousands of homes were burned and all the property destroyed. Dead people lay in the streets in heaps."

FOR COMPULSORY ARBITRATION

Movement to This End Begun by Management of Chicago Railroads.

Chicago, May 14.—A movement has been begun by the management of Chicago railroads to compel labor organizations to agree to submit differences to arbitration whenever negotiations between roads and employees fail to end in agreements. The lead in the movement apparently is being taken by the Rock Island and Burlington and one or two other strong western lines.

The arbitration clause is being proposed with a view of insuring results and increasing the probability of both sides beginning negotiations with a case which they are not afraid to submit to the public. If the railroads cannot induce the labor organizations to agree to the ultimate arbitration plan it is likely that before long a general arbitration board will be selected to represent all railroads territorially allied.

FASHION NOTES.

Italian and Irish Lace—Simplicity In Fashions.

Imitations of coarse Italian lace will be popular as the season advances and will prove a rival to the Irish lace, but the latter is smarter for the adornment of outside garments owing to its raised figures.

The pelerine or little loose sack coat may be skillfully manipulated by the amateur. The chief difficulty in making a pelerine is the fitting on the shoulders, and the amateur must guard against making the woman with already sloping shoulders look ridiculous.

The keynote of the best fashions is simplicity—costly simplicity if you like, but still simplicity. Great discretion is used in the matter of trimmings. The worst of trimmings is that once they are used the untrimmed are apt to overdo them. We become a little tired of cords, passementerie and Armenian embroideries. They are all very well in their way, but directly they are overdone and copied in all sorts of cheap stuff the smart woman will have none of them.

The woman who is unable to spend much on her gown had better put it into cut instead of trimming.

The illustration shows an evening coat of black lace.

PICTURESQUE EFFECTS.

Rare and Becoming Gowns of Clifton and Lace.

The picture dinner gown was at one time known as the tea gown. Now tea gowns are chiefly known by the name of picture frocks. It is difficult to draw any definite line between the two, for once we arrive at the floppy, comfortable gown it is exclusively for lounging purposes and is known as the peignoir.

With a very few exceptions there is no doubt that the picture frock is excessively becoming. Clifton and lace of course form the chief elements in the composition of the picturesque toilet. Other fabrics are oriental satin, crepe de chine and all such clinging and yet sumptuous looking materials. Old brocades are being used but sparingly and in soft weaves. All the soft fabrics of the hour lend themselves admirably to the picturesque.

Fichus of white lace or point d'esprit edged with lace add greatly to the appearance of such a gown.

Homestitched and also fagoted materials are to be bought by the yard beautifully made.

The picture shows a house gown made of soft plaid silk and trimmed with an odd effect of heavy lace.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional means. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining.

Commenting on the investigation which it has conducted concerning the delay in court proceedings and its cause, the State Journal, of Columbus, says: "The facts are that the common pleas courts of Ohio have fewer cases brought before them now than five or even ten years ago, yet they are further behind with those on the docket than they were then. This is not because the common pleas judges do not work. The majority of them at least work longer hours than most laboring men and harder than members of the bar who earn like incomes. Nor will the remedy most often suggested in such cases—more judges—meet the situation. The only remedy lies in a radical reform of judicial procedure in the common pleas courts. The present rules are antiquated. They foster and encourage delay. They permit too much time to elapse before a case can be tried. They require the judges to give too much thought and attention to technical, legal quibbles before the merits of a case are heard. They enable attorneys to drag trials out by pettifoggish cross-examination. There is a crying need for a reform of the code of legal procedure. It would relieve the common pleas judges of a vast mass of technical quibbling by attorneys and would expedite the trial of cases. The present condition is a disgrace to Ohio. The next legislature should take up the whole question and see that the laws are amended so that court procedure will be prompt and business-like."

It is fitting that President Roosevelt should dedicate the monument at San Francisco which commemorates Dewey's victory at Manila. The first spadeful of earth was turned for the monument by the late President McKinley on the occasion of his visit to San Francisco two years ago. The monument, the cost of which was about $35,000, subscribed by the people of that city, consists of a tall column of granite, resting on a broad base, at the bottom of which are four buttresses, which will support figures of heroic size. The emblematic figure in bronze at the top of the shaft is twelve feet in height and represents Victory. Admiral Dewey is perhaps the first of naval heroes to see his exploits recorded on a monument, and he deserves all the honors that have been thrust upon him.

Its a poor injunction rule that won't work both ways. The boot is now on the other foot at Omaha in the existing labor troubles. A district court judge has issued an injunction against the business men and proprietors even more sweeping than that issued last week against the unionists by the federal court. The order restrains the business men from refusing to sell goods to dealers who employ union labor, prevents them from boycotting union labor, requires the Business Men's association to cease holding meetings or conspiring against the unions, or in any way interfering with the unions in the management of their affairs.

The chief of police is to be commended for his determination to rid the city of vagrants. There is small excuse for vagrancy here, as there is work to be had by all able-bodied men who seek it. For the sick and penniless places are provided. Those without visible means of support can take their choice between going to work and relieving the city of their presence.

E. M. Bigelow, director of public works, in Pittsburg, is not the only man who can gaze upon his own monument. Admiral Dewey can now do likewise if he will take the trouble to go to San Francisco.

Bishop Lawrence, of the Episcopal church, is undoubtedly right. There is more need of personal revision than a change of church names or creeds.

The Morocco rebels are likely to get a thorough tanning unless they get off the war path.

EX-CHIEF THOMPSON IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

Has Secured a Responsible Position With a Well Known Local Firm.

Former Chief of Police Thomas V. Thompson was not long, after the expiration of his term of office, in securing a lucrative position, it being announced today that he had connected himself with the real estate and insurance firm of George H. Owen & Co. Just what part of the work Mr. Thompson will take up has not been announced this afternoon. Any part of it, however, will be new to him, but his long experience in business matters and his hustling abilities are such as to warrant the prediction that he will be eminently successful.

The many friends of the ex-chief will be pleased to learn that he has secured a comfortable berth and is to continue a citizen of East Liverpool.

threats and heaping abuse on the pair.

Finally Mrs. Davis demanded to know on what authority the stranger made such charges and he produced a marriage certificate and a letter from the girl's mother. Upon the certificate appeared the name of George Hill. Mrs. Davis then demanded that both the men leave the premises, she permitting the woman to remain for the night. They left in company, quarreling and evidently on the verge of coming to blows.

The night was one of terror to Mrs. Davis, as her husband was out of town. Fearing further trouble she called in several neighbors. Both of the men returned to the neighborhood and were heard prowling around the house during the night. Evidently the woman's companion did not fear violence at the hands of the husband, as he appeared at the house this morning and went to his rooms. A short time later the husband appeared and learning of Tomosco's presence demanded that he be ordered away. Tomosco refused to leave the place until Mrs. Davis promised that the husband would not witness his departure. Upon the pretext of wanting to reread the marriage certificate and letter, Mrs. Davis induced Hill to accompany her to the kitchen. She was almost frantic over the trouble the couple were causing her and ready to do almost anything to be rid of them.

Tomosco was as good as his word, but he had no intention of leaving alone. When he crept down the stairs the woman was with him, but the husband's suspicions were not aroused for a few moments. Then he made a wild dash to the street and started in pursuit of the fleeing couple. He overtook them and this time did not stop to bandy words. He attacked Tomosco with his fists and a desperate fight ensued, finally ended by interference on the part of the woman.

The trio then proceeded to the central portion of the city and boarded a car for Wellsville. Their movements, after their arrival in that city, have not been recorded.

During his wild talk Hill confided to Mrs. Davis his belief that the dark-skinned foreigner possessed a hypnotic influence over his wife. He claimed that Tomosco was a bold, bad man and had on other occasions been a participant in similar escapades. He claimed he had been married for a number of years to the woman and that they had one child, evidently the one over which the woman was grieving. Most of their married life has been spent in Ellwood City, Pa. Tomosco and the woman, it is stated, came here from Tiltonville, where both were employed in the art pottery.

It is stated that Hill wanted his wife to return with him to their Pennsylvania home, so that he could expedite a legal separation. The woman agreed, but availed herself of the first opportunity to elude him.

What disposition will be made of the furniture in the rooms at the Davis home was not known late this afternoon. Mrs. Hill will not permit any of the trio to return to their apartments, feeling keenly the trouble that has fallen to her lot. She is entirely above censure in the matter, as there was no reason to suspect the true state of affairs.

WELLSVILLE

MAYOR MAKES APPOINTMENTS

Members of Public Safety Board, Tax Commission and Health Board.

THE SELECTIONS APPROVED

Council Selected a New Constable And Wrestles With the Matter of the Public Service Budget—Wrangle
Over Janitor.

The feature of greatest interest at the council meeting last evening was the announcement of the appointments of the mayor. They were as follows:

Board of Public Safety—For four years, Edward S. Martin; for two years, Byron D. Deacon.

Board of Tax Commissioners—For four years, J. J. Grafton; for three years, Andrew Drennan; for two years, William J. Maloney; for one year, Judge P. M. Smith.

For member of Board of Health—For five years, John F. McQueen.

Every member of the council was present. W. E. Butler appeared in regard to the vacation of the alder which he has asked to be vacated several times. This alder runs from James street to Highland avenue. He asks that it be vacated and he be given the right to level it, as at present it is impossible for vehicles to trespass and acts as a water shed and runs the water onto his property. The ordinance was placed on its third and final reading and passed.

The ordinance for the improving of Lisbon street, by paving from Little Yellow creek bridge to corporation line, after passing two previous readings, was lost on its third, Bissett and Anderson voting no.

A petition signed by the residents of Fourteenth street asking that the street be opened from Commerce street to Hill street, so as to allow residents to have gas and water. This matter was placed in the hands of the ordinance committee for investigation and report at next meeting.

Next the appointments of the mayor or were submitted for approval. It was necessary to vote on each board separately. The board of public safety passed, McDonald voting no. The board of tax commissioners passed, Bissett voting no. J. F. McQueen went through with a unanimous vote.

The filing of the office of constable, made vacant by the resignation of Constable J. H. Morehead, was next disposed of. There were two applicants, P. E. Spies and Dallas Pittinger. A vote was taken by ballot, which resulted in the election of Spies, he receiving four votes and Pittinger three.

A petition from the sewer building contractors was read, asking that permits be issued to none but practical sewer builders. The board of public service was ordered not to issue permits to any but regular builders.

The board of public service was present and explained all about the budget asking for an appropriation for one month's expenses. At first a vote was about to be taken on the whole budget, but on a suggestion from Mr. Stewart each item was taken up separately. The following is the budget: Engineer's department, $568; supervisor of streets, $400; salaries of members, $100; city building janitor, $45; lighting, $500. Mr. O'Grady moved that the amount for the engineer be appropriated, providing the street inspector's salary of $65 and $12 street car fare be subtracted. There was little discussion about the $65, but considerable talking was done about the $12. O'Grady thought he could walk and save this amount. While he would be walking it would cost the city three times that amount in time. This amount it not for the engineer alone, but for his whole corps, tools and everything else. After discussing the matter for some the $12 was finally added and the $802 was allowed to go through.

Next was the amount for street supervisor, $400, and $75 for having all the paved streets cleaned, as George Patterson & Co. gave that bid for the work. At first they were going to deduct the $75 from the $100, but after some deliberation both amounts were allowed.

The salaries of $100 went through without a question and also the $500 for lights, but when they came to the $45 for a janitor there was a sudden halt. O'Grady wanted to ignore it altogether. Bissett asked if there was to be a janitor and a building police. Here the mayor came forward and made a lengthy speech. He said an ordinance was passed some years ago in which the duties of the building police were to act as janitor, and that he saw no reason why an extra janitor should be employed at the expense of the city. He could not see the necessity of adding this extra $45 to the city's expense. Bowers said that the board of public service was only doing what the new code says it shall do and asked why the janitor appointed could not be endowed with police authority. Mr. Herbert was asked his opinion in the matter and stated: "All I have to say is, we are doing what the law says we shall do." After a discussion of nearly an hour a vote was taken and every member of council voted against making the appropriation. How it will reach a final settlement cannot be told.

At a recent meeting of the board of public service it granted the gas company the privilege of laying gas mains in several different localities. Mayor Fogo brought this matter up and said the company should be stopped unless it had a franchise. He said: "We should have free light and heat in all public buildings, and if the gas company is made to get a new franchise this can be provided for." The matter was placed with the ordinance committee to make an investigation and report at the next meeting.

Small bills amounting to $31 were ordered paid.

An ordinance granting the Wellsville China company the right to lay a railroad track on Wood street to connect with the belt line was placed on its third and final reading by suspending the rules, but was lost. It was then put on its first reading and passed with Bissett and Anderson voting no. These two men voted no the first time also.

A petition from the C. & F. railroad company, asking the privilege to build a watch box for the watchman between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, the same to extend a short distance over onto the street, but in no way to hinder traffic, was read and passed the final reading. The matter was placed in the hands of the street committee to meet with the railroad company and determine a location. This house or box will be 4x4 feet and will not be a benefit to the company, but to employees.

The sum of $1509.80 was ordered borrowed to make appropriation to the board of public service and the auditor was authorized to issue a warrant on the treasurer for $700, the amount ordered paid at the last meeting. Adjourned.

Ead Effects of a Cut.

The condition of Mrs. H. C. Aughinbaugh's hand does not seem to improve as rapidly as was expected. It was injured about four weeks ago. She went out to a meat wagon and was standing in the rear when the horses took fright and started. She grasped for support and her hand struck a cleaver, cutting a severe gash. The wound was dressed and thought to be getting along well until a week later when it began to swell. Dr. Rex, of this city, and Dr. Rex, of New York, performed an operation, after which both physicians thought it would heal. Two or three days later another operation was necessary.

Capital.

A meeting of much importance will be held May 22 by the subscribers to the stock and others interested in the New Cumberland Trust and Savings company. The new concern will start business with a paid in capital of $100,000 and will be of much benefit to Hancock and Brooke counties. At this meeting the organization will be perfected and will engage in business as early a date after the meeting as possible. The Pittsburg end of the capital will be controlled by the Keystone National bank, of that city, which is favorably impressed with the business that may be developed from this section of the Ohio valley.

It is understood that numerous good opportunities will be taken advantage of in the territory through the representation of local capital, who are well acquainted with much valuable coal territory. It is stated on authority that on the day set for the opening of business that money to the full amount of capital will be placed for the general transaction of business.

PLANS ARE READY

Presbyterian Church Officials Will Meet Tonight to Discuss Building Project.

The trustees and the building committee of the Presbyterian church will hold a meeting this evening, when a blue print of the proposed plans of the church building will be in readiness for the inspection of the church officers. If the plans and specifications agree with the views of the body, immediate steps will be taken toward placing the plans in the hands of contractors for figures for its erection.

The officials are unanimous in their opinion that the building of a church to cost a less amount than has been figured on in the drawing of the plans, or one of smaller seating capacity, would only result in future expenditure of funds. While it is considered quite an undertaking for the present small congregation, it is generally conceded that the building of the church according to the proposed plans will be advisable.

Funeral of Robert Leeper.

The funeral of Robert Leeper, aged about 76 years, was held from his former residence near Hookstown at 2 o'clock today. Mr. Leeper was a well known citizen of Beaver county, Pa., and is survived by his wife and one son, George Leeper, residing close to the homestead. Mr. Leeper was an old member of the United Presbyterian church of Hookstown, of which church he was an elder. The burial took place at Tomlinson's Run cemetery and a number of Chester people attended.

HIS LITTLE SPREE

COST HIM $400

DAVID DOHERTY AWOKE TO FIND
FRIENDS AND MONEY GONE.

Pitiful Tale Told By a Man Who Was Arrested Yesterday For Drunkenness.

David Doherty, arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Aufderheide, was released this morning upon the payment of $2 and costs for being drunk. At the hearing before the mayor he told a pitiful story of his experience in the city. He came here about seven weeks ago and commenced canvassing the city for work at his trade, that of a sewing machine adjuster.

Upon his arrival he had nearly $400, money that he had saved after months of hard toil, and intended investing it before long in something that would be of benefit to him. After six weeks in the city he met some dishonest livers and fell into their hands, starting on a big spree that terminated in his arrest yesterday. When he awoke in the city jail study over his undesirable plight brought to memory the fact of his having had the roll of money when he started with the gang and he turned his pockets inside out with the hope of finding it, but to no avail. It was gone and he has not the least idea who got it or where he was when it was stolen.

Chief Wyman was anxious to get a tip, but could learn nothing that would give him a scintilla of a clue and the unfortunate man was compelled to leave central station almost penniless and without hopes of ever recovering his riches. He also lost a couple of traveling bags while on the drunk, but they were found by an officer last evening.

The police have a clue to the men who were with Doherty and arrests are expected.

Objected to Free Puffs.
John Knapp of the St. Louis Republic had little use for press agents, and it took a mighty shrewd man to get a free puff from him. He never would publish a lawyer's or a doctor's name if he could avoid it, for fear they might derive some benefit from the free advertisement. It is said that one morning mention was made in the Republic of a man having died of Bright's disease. Old man Knapp hunted up the proofreader and called him into the private office.

"Why did you let that get into the paper?" asked the old man, indicating with his forefinger the objectionable paragraph.

"I don't see but that's all right," said the reader.

"You don't, eh?" snapped old man Knapp. "You don't, eh? Do you think we want to advertise that man Bright for nothing? He never had an ad. in this paper in his life."

Manx Cats.
The peculiar breed of cats found in the Isle of Man differs from others only in that they have no tails, and the lack thereof is the insoluble puzzle to naturalists. Since it has become the fashion to explain everything by the principles of evolution, two theories have been offered—one that, owing to the limited range and lack of dense forests, the original cats had no use for tails, and consequently they (the tails, not the cats) gradually atrophied for lack of use and became rudimentary; another that the primitive Manx cut off all their cats' tails and in the course of time developed a tailless breed. One thing is certain—the cats are there, and they have no tails.

NO ACTION TAKEN AGAINST RAILROAD

President of Public Service Board Says Council Must Deal With It.

A QUESTION OF AUTHORITY

Raised Which Presents Several Different Phases—Different Sections of the Code Which Apparently Do Not Harmonize.

President Taylor and Jacob Shenkel, of the board of public service, held a meeting last evening for the purpose of transacting considerable business of importance, but owing to the sickness of the third member of the board, W. L. Smith, who became suddenly ill while in Wellsville yesterday afternoon, making it impossible for him to be present, there was but little accomplished.

When the meeting was called to order there were several interested citizens present and the following city officials had assembled by request of the board: City Solicitor Davidson, City Auditor Davidson, City Engineer Kelly, Supt. Morley, of the water works, and Superintendent of Highways Dickey.

Clerk Gilmer had been served with the order from council demanding that the board of public service take immediate steps to have the officials of the C. & P. railroad remove the switch which lies on Water street, undeniably city property. President Taylor raised an immediate objection to the interference by the board in any manner with the railroad company. He stated that he did not think it the duty of the board to enforce any ordinance or resolution created by any former council and that he would not favor action until perfectly satisfied on the matter.

Solicitor Davidson was asked for his opinion and he without hesitation expressed it as his belief that the board should execute the order, arguing that council is a legislative body. He also maintained that the order was not the result of the creation by the old council, but because the present council wants the property vacated. He was not, however, as clear as he wished to be on the subject, and had no objection to deferring action.

From a perusal of the code it is learned that the question that has arisen in this particular case is a perplexing one and one wherein careful judgment is necessary. Sections of the code pertaining to the subject are very conflicting. Section 28: "In all municipal corporations council shall have the care, supervision and control of public highways, streets, avenues, alleys, sidewalks, public grounds, bridges, aqueducts and viaducts within the corporation, and shall cause the same to be kept open and in repair and free from nuisance; and with respect to the dedication, opening and vacation of streets, as well as labor upon them, etc."

Section 149: "The directors of public service shall supervise the improvement and repair of streets, avenues, alleys, lands, lanes, squares, wharves, docks, landings, market houses, bridges, viaducts, aqueducts, sidewalks, sewer drains, ditches, culverts, ship channels, streams and water courses; the lighting, sprinkling and cleaning of all public places and the construction of all public improvements and public works, except as otherwise provided in this act."

After reading the two above sections the question very naturally arises: "Which, council or the board of public works, is required to look after city property?"

Monroe Patterson asked the board to grant him the privilege of placing scales in front of the Patterson machine works on Walnut street. After promising to clean and keep clean the street he was given the permission.

The much-needed street scraper will be in the hands of Supt. Dickey before many weeks have passed. Had the full membership of the board been present last evening a bid no doubt would have been accepted for the furnishing of one. There were several bids submitted, but they were laid over until the next meeting, which will likely be held before the end of the week.

Auditor Davidson's compiled report showing the condition of the city's finances was submitted and carefully investigated. The board thought it expedient that some action be taken and will assist so far as they are empowered in relieving the situation.

THE BROTHERHOOD WELL SATISFIED

Ed Menge, the new secretary, will become a citizen of East Liverpool, the duties of his office making it imperative that he be with the president. There is not a more popular man in the entire city of Wheeling than Mr. Menge and a better qualified man for the position could not have been found in the ranks of the Brotherhood. That his election was an entire surprise is not a reflection upon his candidacy. He occupied a rather novel position in the contest up to the time of the voting and until then had practically no chance to win. But one of the peculiar contingencies, incident to such a contest, arose and at once became the logical candidate.

On the first ballot for secretary John T. Wood had but eight votes less than a majority of the entire number. He was the favorite candidate among a number of those high in the councils of the organization and the delegates were led to believe that a slate had been made, which included Mr. Wood for secretary and S. W. Moore for treasurer. This belief drew the fire of all the delegates who were opposed to slate making upon Mr. Wood and had the effect of cementing the forces of the two other candidates. This proved to be a stronger combination than that supporting the alleged slate and on the second ballot Mr. Wood lost ground and Mr. Menge gained heavily. The jiggermen and kilnmen are reported to have been at odds on the candidates, the former supporting Mr. Menge. Local No. 6, of Wheeling, has no complaint to make over the distribution of the offices, as two of them are from that local.

There was quite a contest over the selection of the two delegates to represent the Brotherhood at the next convention of the American Federation of Labor. None of the candidates had made a canvass for the honor and some of them were not aware that their names would be presented. The candidates were President Duffy, First Vice President Hutchins, Second Vice President Harry Hailes, L. M. Martin, of Camden; John Wood, of East Liverpool, and Frank Van Fossen, of New Castle. Messrs. Hailes and Van Fossen were elected on the first ballot.

By vote of the convention these delegates were instructed to vote and work at the next convention of the Federation for the recognition of the National Stogie Makers' League, whose headquarters are located in Wheeling. For a number of years, the Federation, presumably at the behest of Samuel Gompers, who is a cigar maker, has refused the league recognition, for no reason apparently, except that the cigar makers desire to down the stogie makers in season and out.

How the Fox Settled A Dispute

One day after the Peacock had been walking about and uttering its shrill cries to attract attention to its tail feathers the Goose waddled up from the pond and said:

"I'll admit that your feathers are more highly colored than mine, but if I had such a voice on me I should expect a violent death at any moment."

"What! You, with your hiss and your squawk, dare to criticize my voice?" replied the Peacock.

"I'm no nightingale, but my voice doesn't set everybody's teeth on edge."

"Nor mine. If it isn't as soft as the bluebird's, it's at least as musical as the robin's. You are simply jealous of me."

"I say your voice is like broken glass."

"And yours is like files."

"Ladies," observed the Fox from his lurking place in a bush, "there seems to be a difference of opinion here, and it will please me much to act as referee. Please step this way behind the hedge and let me hear your respective voices."

Both Goose and Peacock knew that the Fox was their common enemy and that they ran a great risk in approaching him, but such was their envy of each other and each so ardently hoped for his favorable opinion that prudence was cast aside.

"That is beautiful—very beautiful," replied the Fox after the Peacock had uttered a few shrieks.

"And I can't see how that could be bettered," he added as the Goose flapped her wings and cried out.

"Didn't I say so?" exclaimed the Peacock.

"And hasn't he decided in my favor?" replied the Goose.

"I'm saying that as far as voices go," remarked the Fox as he made ready, "one of you reminds me of the bobolink and the other of the nightingale, but—"

"But what?" they cried in chorus.

"But the real question is as to plumpness and flavor. Excuse me, will you, while I break your necks and indulge in a little dinner?"

Moral.—Envy and vanity are but weapons in the hands of an enemy.

The turquoise is considered as a talisman in Persia, its native soil. It preserves its possessor from accidents and insures constancy in affections. The value of the turquoise depends on its shade and its size, especially its thickness. Those classed as belonging to the old rock are valued very highly. ## HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE POSSIBLY EXPLAINS IT

Domestic Drama Not Without Comedy Features
Enacted On Thompson Hill.

FLIGHT, FIGHT AND OTHER COMPLICATIONS

An erring wife and her companion were surprised last night by the husband at a house on Vine street, where they had taken rooms and were living, as they thought, in impenetrable seclusion. The appearance was followed by scenes bordering on the melodramatic, and the usual quietude of Thompson hill was disturbed until the trio left for Wellsville this morning. That murder was avoided is the most surprising feature of the episode.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davis purchased a home on Vine street a short time ago and advertised the rooms on the second floor for rent. There were a number of applicants and from them Mr. and Mrs. Davis selected a couple giving their names as Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Tomosco. They rented the entire upper floor and furnished the rooms for light housekeeping. Tomosco appeared to be a foreigner and it was later learned that he was born in Austria and followed the profession of a china painter. Mrs. Tomosco was a comely woman of about 30 years. There were no children.

That they were not what they claimed to be was not once suspected, by Mr. and Mrs. Davis, and only on one or two occasions were their actions out of the ordinary. Mrs. Tomosco seemed to be depressed in spirits and spent most of the time weeping. She did not confide her troubles to Mrs. Davis further than to state that she was lonely without her little daughter, a child of a former marriage, and that she had been divorced from her first husband. Tomosco objected to her leaving their apartments and was usually at hand to prevent her telling strangers anything of their past lives.

The denouement came last night about 6 o'clock and was attended by a scene rarely enacted outside of books of fiction. A stranger presented himself at the Davis home and after learning that Mr. and Mrs. Tomosco were there, asked to see them. He asked that Mrs. Davis accompany him upstairs and from his tone and manner Mrs. Davis had a foreboding of what was about to happen. When the door of the apartment was opened by Mrs. Tomosco there was a scene of wild confusion. With stern bearing the stranger exclaimed: "I demand my lawful wedded wife," while the couple retreated to the remotest corner of the room. Mrs. Davis was horror-stricken, expecting every moment to witness a terrible tragedy. The stranger contented himself, however, with making

CHANGES NEEDED AT CITY HALL

A Rearrangement of Office Accommodations Will Probably be Made.

DANGER AT THE CITY JAIL

To be sworn in and organize by electing officers, the board of public safety, W. L. Taylor, D. M. Ogilvie, J. H. Grafton and J. H. Dawson, will meet in the mayor's office this evening. They assembled there last evening, but nothing of an official nature was done, it being the desire to defer business until they were qualified.

One member of the board when questioned as to what the initial step of the body would be replied that he was entirely ignorant of any future action and would be content to wait developments. He, however, intimated that it would be the endeavor of the board to have office quarters changed materially around the city hall and other changes made. It is likely that the board will for the present occupy the mayor's sanctum, but they think the room entirely too small, and if they conclude to meet permanently with the mayor they will undoubtedly provide more commodious quarters for that office.

Chief of Police Wyman has a commendable idea on one alteration that should be made at the city hall, and it is not unlikely that the board will be called upon to consider it. The chief has become convinced that the quarters used for the confinement of female prisoners are from several standpoints decidedly inadequate. The quarters are located in the frame addition to the city building, and are of frail structure. Close beside them is a gas stove and in several parts of the addition there are gas jets which are kept burning every night.

If some paper or a portion of the frame work would catch fire some night while the cells contained a prisoner and no officer happened to be around the building, Mr. Wyman asks, What would prevent the prisoner from cremation? She could not possibly get out and the apartment being of dry wood would burn quickly and fiercely. It is easily to be seen that the fate of the prisoner would be sealed. The quarters are open to the rain and blasts, throwing a prisoner in an unhealthy predicament. These things, considered from a humane basis, will

A West Township Woman Brings Suit For Divorce, Telling Sad Story.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—Cora E. Gottschall, living near Bayard, West township, has sued for divorce from William Gottschall, asking the custody of their two daughters aged 4 and 2 respectively. Mrs. Gottschall says they were married November 19, 1898, at Minerva. She alleges that since November 25, 1900, her husband has been guilty of gross neglect by reason of idleness and dissipation, and refusing to live with his family or contribute to their support.

The wife says she has been compelled to depend for support on her own labor and on the charity of relatives. C. S. Speaker is her attorney.

ITS LEGALITY IS ASSAILED

Allegation That the Ordinance for C. A. Smith's Street Railway is Invalid.

INJUNCTION TO BE ASKED

In a communication which was submitted to City Solicitor George B. Davidson shortly after noon today, exceptions are taken to the legality and validity of the ordinance passed several weeks ago granting C. A. Smith the privilege of erecting a street car line to the East End. It is contended that the move is a ruse on the part of the East Liverpool & Wellsville line to delay temporarily the building of the road and prevent its ever being built if possible.

Mr. Smith has been cognizant of the move for some time and anticipates no trouble whatever in the matter. The people want the road, a fact displayed by the numberless petitions presented to council at the time the ordinance was passed, and are going to have it. Solicitor Davidson states that he will not take any action in the matter, positively refusing to accede to the demand of those who have raised the cry.

The petition is as follows:
East Liverpool, Ohio, May 13, 1903.
George E. Davidson,
City Solicitor of East Liverpool.
Dear Sir:—

I hereby inform you that I am advised and believe that the ordinance passed by the city council of the city of East Liverpool, March 11, 1903, purporting to grant certain rights and privileges upon the streets and highways of said city, to one C. A. Smith and his assigns, is invalid and illegal. I therefore request you, as the city solicitor of said city, to apply in the name of said City of East Liverpool to a court of competent jurisdiction for an injunction against the city of East Liverpool, William A. Weaver, as mayor of said city; John N. Taylor, William L. Smith and Jacob

THE BROTHERHOOD WELL SATISFIED

Work of the Wheeling Convention Meets With General Approval.

MEMCE, THE SECRETARY

Will Shortly Remove to This City And Enter Upon His Official Duties. Return of the Local Delegates. Personal Gossip.

Almost all of the delegates from East Liverpool in attendance upon the thirteenth annual convention of the N. B. of O. P. reached home yesterday afternoon and evening. A few of them remained until today. There was a general exodus from the city during yesterday afternoon among the delegates from both east and west and in the majority of cases the first train was none too soon for a start towards home. All the Trenton delegates, except those who will spend a few days here with friends, left Wheeling yesterday afternoon at 3:55 o'clock.

The newly-elected executive board held a brief meeting in Wheeling yesterday afternoon to pass upon some matters referred to it by the convention. Nothing of importance was transacted. The members of the board took advantage of the occasion to become better acquainted. All the members save President Duffy, First Vice President Hutchins and Third Vice President Hailes have never served as national officers and the duties are practically unknown to them.

Another peculiar feature was developed in the election of officers. First Vice President Frank Hutchins is the only one of the entire list of new officials to retain his old position. Secretary Duffy being advanced to president and Harry Hailes from fourth to third vice president.

Mr. Hutchins had made arrangements to come to East Liverpool with the local delegation and remain a few days renewing old acquaintances. He had planned this in view of the fact that the meeting of the executive board was to have been held here, but when this plan was altered and the meeting held in Wheeling, he decided to go directly to Trenton. There is not a more popular man in the organization than Mr. Hutchins and the increase in the salary of the first vice president and his re-election to that office is pleasing news to his host of friends.

Ex-President Hughes will remain in Wheeling, probably until Saturday, the guest of near relatives. He will spend several weeks here before going to Columbus to assume his duties of manager of the new Columbus pottery. Mr. Hughes has a host of friends in Wheeling, it being his former home. President Duffy is also a former Wheelingite and he experienced many happy reunions with old friends. He will at once enter upon his new work as the highest officer of the Brotherhood.

DAMAGE SUIT NOW ON TRIAL

Washingtonville Dispute Between Landlord and Tenant Reaches Court.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—The case of Horace G. Tetlow against George W. Allen, which came up from the court of Mayor Jonathan Longbottom, of Washingtonville, was tried before a jury today. The plaintiff says that on July 26, 1902, the defendant forcibly entered a dwelling house which the plaintiff was occupying and kept him and his family from possession of the house and from the use of their household effects for some time, causing the goods to be damaged by disuse.

Tetlow asks $100 damages. It seems that he rented the house and the trouble arose over a disagreement between the landlord and the tenant.

Yengling, of Salem, as department commander of the G. A. R. and John J. Rose, of East Liverpool, as commander of the Sons of Veterans at Marietta, T. T. Church, of Salem, was re-elected treasurer of the State Homeopathic Medical society; W. F. Crossley, of Salem, was elected second vice president of the Independent Telephone Traffic company; C. F. Smith, exalted ruler of the Salem lodge of Elks, was elected a director of the Ohio Association of Elks, the last three bodies having met in this city yesterday. Altogether yesterday was an eventful day for the Columbiana county man. It was certainly his day. The selection of Messrs. Yengling and Rose as the heads of their respective organizations gives satisfaction hereabouts. Their elevation to these high offices is a great honor to each.

District Deputy L. P. Metzger, of Salem, and Exalted Ruler C. F. Smith, of Salem, and Hon. W. V. Blake, of East Liverpool, were the representatives of their respective lodges at the annual meeting of the Elks' association. All three gentlemen spoke at the gathering against the proposition to memorialize the national grand lodge to establish state grand lodges, which when put to a vote lost by a two to one majority. The next convention will be held at Lima. The election of officers resulted: President, E. H. Archer, Columbus; vice president, Thomas Trainer, Zanesville; secretary, J. M. Arndt, Lima; treasurer, George M. Henry, Steubenville. Deputy Metzger was placed on a committee on good of the order.

Messrs. Ambrose Massey and Charles C. Spaulding, the former representing Osceola council, Daughters of Pocahontas, and the latter representing Iroquois tribe, both of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Massey and Mrs. John T. Wright, all of East Liverpool, arrived here last night from Circleville, where they attended the Great Council of Red Men. They returned home this morning. Past Grand Sachem John Stamm, of East Liverpool, arrived here this morning from Circleville. Mansfield gets the next meeting.

Lowest Stage for the Year.

The lowest stage of water for the year was recorded today, the marks showing less than six feet in the channel. There is no immediate prospect for a substantial rise and the movements of the packets are seriously interfered with. The Ben Hur has been compelled to go to the bank, the little steamer Bessie Smith taking her trade. She is due down tonight at 8 o'clock. The Greenwood was built for a low water packet and has a much lighter draught than other boats her size. She is due up at 3 o'clock tonight.

AN ISSUE OF BONDS TO RELIEVE THE CITY WILL MEET WITH FAVOR

Council Expected to Act Upon the Matter Tonight. Necessity for Such Action.

The adjourned meeting of council this evening will be one of the most important held by a councilmanic body in this city for a lengthy period. The express purpose of the meeting will be to provide a plan by which money can be obtained to wipe out a portion of the city's enormous indebtedness.

Various ideas have been expressed by the members of council and other city officials but the consensus of opinion now is that the only remedy for the situation will be to issue bonds to cover the amount and Solicitor Davidson spent some time today in preparing the necessary formulas.

A provision of the code makes compulsory a vote of the people on such issues and council has determined to set a date for a bond election at the meeting tonight. They have not determined on the exact date but will not defer it longer than absolutely necessary.

As before stated the indebtedness which council wishes to cover aggregates something over $35,000, but as the interest is piling up it has been decided to make the vote for a $50,000 issue and if it carries there will be sufficient money in the city's treasury to place the several funds which have been so greatly overdrawn on a sound basis and the dilemma will be relieved.

A member of the tax commission stated last evening that the financial business of the city has been carried on for years in strict violation of the law and that not only the city officials, but the banking concerns from which they have borrowed money could be prosecuted for allowing the transaction of the business, which he declared was illegal, not only under the provisions of the code, but always has been.

It is well known by the official brethren that money cannot be paid for salaries, etc., unless it be in the fund designated for such payment. The allegation is made and not denied that heretofore a warrant would be issued for the payment of the policemen's salaries and notwithstanding that there was no money in the treasury credited to the police fund, the amount would be drawn from the general fund and paid. Such action is illegal and will not be tolerated in the future, making it necessary for the bond issue.

The banks that have been lending the money on the city's notes at 7 per cent interest will reap no more such harvests. President Taylor, of the board of public service, made a query at the meeting last night, "Why is it that a private citizen can borrow and unlimited amount upon the payment of 6 per cent and the city cannot get a cent unless 7 per cent is agreed to?"

CHANGE TO BE MADE AT UNION POTTERY

PLANT SHUT DOWN IN ORDER TO EFFECT IT.

Hereafter This Factory Will Make a Complete Line of Dinner Ware.

All the departments of the local plant of the Union Pottery company, Broadway and East Fifth streets, excepting the ware dressers and packers, have suspended while a change is being made from scheme to a dinner line. The alterations necessary will require at least two weeks' time.

This plant has been making nothing but scheme ware for several years, like the Chelsea plant, in the same company, until a few months ago. It is stated that the scheme order expired on the first day of this year and was not renewed. At any rate, the plant here has not been in full operation since that time.

The result of this change will be that a number of additional operatives, principally pressers and dish makers, will be added to the present force. The number of jigmen will remain the same, which insures an increased output.

Several local designers have submitted bids and designs for the new pieces necessary and the contract will be given in a few days. The present line of flats will be added to until it is made a full dinner line. Later several entirely new shapes will be brought out.

Appealed from Wellsville Court.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—The case of Matthias Glaser, against the Pennsylvania company has been appealed from Justice W. F. Haney's court in Wellsville. It is alleged by the plaintiff that the company owes him $69.50 with interest from November 8, 1902, by reason of the transfer to him of an indebtedness of the company to Stephen Kalina for labor. The plaintiff got judgment for the full amount in the justice's court. Judge P. M. Smith is the plaintiff's attorney. Carey & Mullins represent the defendant.

At a Bankers' Meeting.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—Ross Firestone, of Firestone Bros.' bank, went to Columbus today to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Ohio Bankers' association. He expects to return here Monday, accompanied by his wife, who has been in a sanitarium at Marion, O., since last fall. Mrs. Firestone's health is said to be much improved.

News and Notes About The Potteries

SECOND POTTERY AT CAMERON.

The deal for the pottery plant which is to be built in the Nichols addition in the East End has been consummated and the capital stock has been subscribed and the contracts for the building have been signed, says a Cameron, W. Va., special. J. S. Paulson, of Sebring, who is superintending the erection of the building for the same company's plant in the West End, made the above statement and said work on the foundation for their building in the East End would be started within the next 10 days. When the two factories are completed and in operation they will employ about 600 people. The manager expects to have the pottery in the West End in operation by the 15th of July.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

The Electric Porcelain works is making extensive improvements and alterations to its plant on Elm street. The two porcelain kilns will be finished this week, with the exception of the band irons that are to be placed around the stacks. The building that will be erected is to be put up in the rear of the plant and will be of brick, two stories in height, and will cover a space of ground 60x80 feet. The building will contain the grog pans and other expensive machinery, and the total amount of money to be expended is $15,000. The kilns are badly needed, as the company is rushed with orders.

A ROOSEVELT JARDINIER.

The Wheeling Potteries company designers are now at work on a new jardiner, christened the Roosevelt jardiner, which will not be publicly exhibited until the World's fair at St. Louis next year, where this company will have a large and varied exhibit of its products. The design will be much more elaborate than the Dewey jardiner, presented to the admiral on his visit to Wheeling in 1900.

A FAMOUS SHRINE IN AN OHIO TOWN

AN UNPRETENTIOUS CHURCH ATTRACTS MANY PILGRIMS.

The Sick And Afflicted Yearly Flock to Carey to Seek Relief.

Carey, O., May 14.—For the past three days the patrons' feast, a ceremony that attracts a large amount of attention and has made the town of Carey famous, has been in progress here. On the last day occurs the general pilgrimage when the sick and afflicted from all parts of the country visit the shrine of Our Lady of Consolation Church with the hope that they may be miraculously cured.

It is not generally known that in this little village there is located one of what are known as two healing shrines in the United States, and that scarcely a day goes by but the lame, sick or blind seek relief before its altar. The church is an unpretentious affair of frame and yet its rude construction and uninviting appearance do not in the least detract from its exclusive distinction.

The power to heal is attributed to a face simile of the Luxembourg statue of the Holy Virgin and her child, which is accredited to be of divine origin. The statue here also contains a part of the original, which was obtained by papal decree expressly for the purpose. In the sixteenth century the European province of Luxembourg was visited by a pestilence. The survivors erected a church to the memory of the Holy Virgin. When the dedication day arrived a statue of the Holy Virgin and her child was found upon the altar. It was accepted as of divine origin and many miraculous cures are attributed to it.

Among the many people from the vicinity of Luxembourg who migrated to the United States, a colony settled at Carey. This little band determined to build a church and the structure was started in 1896. Owing to a lack of funds the work was suspended after the foundation had been completed and it remained in this condition for six years. Father Gloden, who was located at the nearby town of Berwick, took the matter up and succeeded in raising the necessary funds to complete the work and in 1875 it was ready to dedicate.

The colony from Luxembourg urged Father Gloden to make a pilgrimage to the mother country and endeavor to secure a piece of the original statue of the Virgin and her child. The priest consented, and a trip for the special purpose was made. Success not only crowned his efforts, but he had a facsimile of the statue made in which he embodied a small piece from the original.

Pope Leo has further endowed the church by recognizing it officially as a pilgrimage church. He has recognized it still further by sending direct from Rome, with duly authenticated letters, an antependium and altar outfit. The antependium is of the finest silk, embroidered in gold, and bears the coat of arms of the pope—the tiara, the cedar tree, and stars—Lumen de Coelo—"Light from Heaven." The antependium is hung in a prominent place before the altar.

The fourth Sunday after Easter, the ceremony, which is styled the patrons' feast, was observed. It was participated in by a number of visiting priests.

MAY BE NO STRIKE

Negotiations Renewed Between Officials and Men on Great Northern.

CONCESSIONS WERE OFFERED

By the Company and Action Is Deferred Until After Conference—Business Men's Committee Is Responsible for Present Conditions.

St. Paul, May 14.—No strike was declared on the Great Northern railway and affairs have assumed a much more encouraging aspect. Negotiations between the men and the officials of the road, which were broken off on Tuesday, have been renewed and the outlook is for an amicable settlement. Neither side will say what concessions, if any, have been offered by the road, but that concessions have been offered and that they are more favorable than any made previously is evidenced by the fact that the calling of a strike has been deferred until after the conference.

The committee of business men from St. Paul and Minneapolis which Tuesday night secured the consent of the grievance committee to attempt to bring about an amicable arrangement of the difficulty is understood to be largely responsible for present conditions. They held a conference with the grand officers and the general committee during the day. The demands of the men were discussed, Messrs. Garretson and Newman, representing respectively the conductors' association and the trainmen's brotherhood, fully explaining their side of the controversy. The stand they took was that all other trans-continental roads have granted the demands made by the unions with reference to the running of double headers, and that if the Great Northern should be given greater concessions than have been granted the other roads the latter will charge a breach of faith on the part of the grand officers. The business men's committee urged the men to refrain from tying up the road.

Mr. Garretson declared that the men would not allow any one to exceed them in yielding, once a spirit of yielding should be shown by the company. He further stated that all preparations had been made for the declaration of a strike and that unless some tangible offer were made on behalf of the company looking to concessions of a satisfactory character a strike would be declared. After their conference with the men the business men's committee waited on General Manager F. E. Ward and heard the company's side of the case. Then a conference was arranged between the general manager and the grievance committee, at which members of the business men's committee were also present. This conference lasted until evening and at its close Chairman Cooper, of the business men's committee, announced that Mr. Garretson had given assurance that no strike would be ordered and that the conference would be resumed at 10 o'clock in the morning, with every prospect of a successful termination. While all those who were present at the conference were extremely reticent, it was learned from an authoritative source that concessions satisfactory to the men had been offered by the road and that all that remained to be done was to decide upon certain matters of detail.

SEEKS TO GARNISHEE

Young Woman After the Property of Edward Shive, Who Left Lisbon Suddenly.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special).—The case of Miss Carlisle, of Lisbon, against Edwin Shive, in which the plaintiff seeks to garnishee property alleged to belong to the defendant and to be now in the hands of Lavin Cope, of Lisbon, was submitted to Judge Ambler yesterday afternoon. Shive was a partner of Cope in the mercantile business here and on his disappearance on the night of April 17 when he learned that Miss Carlisle was about to prefer a charge against him, Cope, she alleges, disposed of all his belongings, including notes aggregating $500, to him.

The court now has under advisement the question whether the holder of these notes can be made to pay a judgment in favor of the young woman. W. H. Spence is the plaintiff's attorney.

DISCOVERED A LEAKING BOTTLE

And Drank Contents—One Dead at Hospital and Others in Serious Condition.

Cincinnati, May 14.—As the result of drinking what they thought was whiskey five men employed at the Adams Express warehouse were poisoned, one dying at the hospital. The other four men are in a serious condition.

A bottle was received from Memphis addressed to Kate Nobbe in this city. In handling the bottle J. B. Ficker discovered a leak and remarked, "This is a nice bottle of booze—too good to let go to waste."

One of the men procured a tin cup and each took a drink. They became violently ill in a few moments and were rushed to the city hospital. Ficker died on arriving there, while William Stevens, George Eberle, Louis Burbank and William Daly are reported in a serious condition. When seen Mrs. Nobbe said: "I can't say what the bottle contained, but it was undoubtedly sent by a woman who is employed by a relative of mine in Memphis. He visited me three weeks ago and since that time I have been receiving packages and obscene letters from Memphis. It is jealousy on her part."

Mrs. Nobbe is employed at the Hong-tung hotel here. It was found that the bottle contained arsenic and whiskey.

Salem Man Elected.
Marietta, O., May 14.—Dr. A. C. Yengling, of Salem, O., was elected department commander, G. A. R. of Ohio, over B. M. Moulton, of Lima, by a vote of 277 to 249. C. H. Newton, of Marietta, was elected senior vice commander; John T. Booth, of Cincinnati, junior vice commander. The place of next meeting has not been selected, but Tiffin is conceded to be the place. The attendance is the largest in the history of the Grand Army of Ohio. The parade was two miles long.

Body Will Be Exhumed.
Lorain, O., May 14.—At a conference between Detectives Mintz and Goldsmith, Coroner French and County Prosecutor Stroup, at Elyria, it was decided to exhumate the body of Agatha Reichlin at Elyria. This action is taken to satisfy the authorities as to whether Miss Reichlin had been choked into unconsciousness before she had been assaulted with the heavy stone.

EMPLOYERS FORM ASSOCIATION

Members Banded Together to Fight Organized Labor in Kansas City.

Kansas City, May 14.—The 6,000 employers of labor in this city have banded together to fight the members of labor unions who use the boycott to gain their ends and have organized "The Employers' Association."

The association decided to refuse to deliver goods to those places where non-union men or non-union made goods are discriminated against. This action has resulted from a brewing company, employing union men, refusing to deliver beer to a hotel bar until the union was recognized. A member of the association retaliated by refusing to deliver ice to the saloons handling this particular brewing company's beer, with the result that the delivery of beer to the offending hotel was immediately resumed. Several persistent boycotts have been laid against restaurants and various branches of trade in Kansas City within the past year because of refusal of employers to recognize unions.

Uncle Reuben's Opinion.

"They may say what they please, but listen—hear me; I've taken all kinds of laxatives, purgatives and cathartics but when it comes to one that is easy and pleasant to take, mild and gentle in its action, and that makes one want an extra slice of bacon for breakfast, just give me Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and you may have all the laxative syrups, dyspepsia medicines and pills, little or big, there is in this country. Them Tablets surely do make one feel joyful." For sale by Alvin & Bulger.

THE CONFERENCE
WHOLLY HARMONIOUS

Rivermen and Government Engineers Agree in Regard to East Liverpool Bridge Plans.

In regard to locating the new bridge, which is intended to span the Ohio river at East Liverpool, the conference between the projectors, the bridge committee of Harbor 25 and the United States engineers appears to have been a harmonious one, says a report from Pittsburg.

The bridge committee of Harbor 25 agreed to accept the site proposed by the bridge company, with the understanding that the first pier on the West Virginia side be located at the water's edge, with the second pier 800 feet out on the river, which will be the channel span.

It is expected that the site proposed with the piers located as suggested by the harbor committee will be satisfactory to all, with the exception possibly of the bridge company, which claims that the change in the location of the piers will add somewhat to the cost of the bridge. The matter is now in the hands of the United States engineers.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried. In fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with."

RESTORES PLEASING
PLUMPNESS

Mi-o-na Sold Under Druggist Will Reed's "No Cure No Pay" Plan.

A man or woman might as well starve outright as to take food into the stomach and not have it digested, yet in East Liverpool, as well as in every other town and city, there are many people who are thin, pale and seem underfed, simply because the food they eat is not digested, the stomach is weak to do its proper work, and the food fails to make good blood and firm flesh.

Mi-o-na, the wonderful flesh-forming food and scientific remedy for the cure of dyspepsia, taken after meals, mingles with the food and enables it to assimilate and be readily digested so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness. No one can use it for a week or ten days without a noticeable gain in weight. It is the only remedy used in the treatment of stomach troubles where the money is refunded if it does not cure. Statistics show that out of every hundred people who commence the use of Mi-o-na, 98 will find a gain in weight and a restoration of health and strength.

Any one who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, who has to take thought as to what to eat, and when, or who is thin, weak, scrawny and emaciated can place 50c on deposit with Will Reed and take home a box of Mi-o-na. If the remedy does not regulate digestion, cure dyspepsia and give a noticeable increase in good, firm flesh, he will refund the money without any questions.

BODY IN THE WELL

Italian's Story of Murder in a Fight at Empire May Prove True.

Toronto, May 14.—At Empire, three miles from here, a fight occurred a month ago, among Italians in an old planing mill. A young Italian claimed his 15-year-old brother had been murdered and thrown in a deep old well inside the mill. A partial investigation was then made, but nothing found. Last night workmen cleaning out the well found blood and a piece of a man's gory scalp, while the awful stench was such that work had to be suspended. There now seems little doubt but the man's body is in the well.

LOCAL FEDERATION ENTERTAINS

Senator Hanna, Archbishop Ireland and John Mitchell Make Addresses.

New York, May 14.—The executive committee of the local federation entertained the visiting committee at dinner at the Ashland house. Lewis Nixon, chairman of the executive committee, presided. Senator Hanna, Archbishop Ireland and John Mitchell were among the speakers.

Senator Hanna said labor troubles are to be deplored because they threaten the commercial supremacy of the country and Archbishop Ireland added that Europe is hoping that labor strikes will restore to Europe the markets of the world, now being threatened by American competition. "In New York," Senator Hanna said, "the situation is far from hopeless and I simply wish to make an appeal to you, gentlemen of the local federation, to stand upon the principle just put forth by the national federation that if the employer and employee are honest with each other difficulties will soon be ended."

Archbishop Ireland, President J. D. Underwood, of the Erie, and John Mitchell urged the conciliation committee of the local body to use all endeavor to bring about a settlement of the reported difficulties in the building trades.

Potters Elect Officers and Adjourn. Wheeling, May 14.—The convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters adjourned after completing the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Second vice president, William Elder, East Liverpool, O.; third vice president, H. W. Hales, Wheeling; fourth vice president, George Dix, Trenton, N. J.; fifth vice president, Elmer Wooten, East Palestine, O.; sixth vice president, Joseph T. Cotton, East Liverpool, O.; secretary, Edward Menge, Wheeling; treasurer, Aaron Coleman, East Liverpool.

GIVES RELIEF QUICKLY

Regular Use of Hyomei Cures Most Stubborn Case of Catarrh.

No other medicine gives such prompt relief as Hyomei in the treatment of catarrh.

The first breath of this remedy soothes and heals the irritated and smarting air passages, and the regular use for a few days or weeks will cure the most stubborn case. Some of the reports from those who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei read like miracles.

John S. Gray, of Richmond Hills, Pa., writes: "I am 82 years old and have been a sufferer with catarrh in the head for 25 or 30 years. I have doctored with many specialists and they all told me that the disease was incurable on account of my age. After using Hyomei a short time I was greatly benefited and now can say that I am entirely cured. It has now been six months since I stopped using the remedy and I still remain cured."

In nearly every town and village of the country can be found those who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. In East Liverpool there are probably over a thousand people whose health has been restored by this remarkable treatment.

Will Reed has sold package after package and every one has been with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not cure. Only two outfits have been returned and in each instance the money was paid back without question.

You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei and your word decides the question as to whether you pay for the remedy or not.

Can you afford to suffer longer with catarrh when you can buy a guaranteed treatment on this plan?

MAY HAVE BEEN MASSACRED

Denver Man Has Grave Fears Regarding Safety of Mother, Sister and Brother.

Denver, May 14.—From a letter written by his father in a hospital at Kishinev, Russia, W. King, of this city, learns that his mother, sister and brother may have been victims of the recent massacre in which hundreds of women and little children were slaughtered by the Russians. Mr. King's father was badly injured and is now in the hospital.

"I can learn nothing of your mother or sister or brother," he writes. "I fear they are among the victims. The street ran with blood. Children were dragged from their mothers' arms and held against the sides of buildings. Women were caught and slashed to bits by the frenzied Christians. The cry was 'Down with the Jews.' I saw a mother cut open and her unborn babe thrown against a railroad train. Women were held by men while they were mutilated. The number killed will be more than 600. Thousands of homes were burned and all the property destroyed. Dead people lay in the streets in heaps."

FOR COMPULSORY ARBITRATION

Movement to This End Begun by Management of Chicago Railroads.

Chicago, May 14.—A movement has been begun by the management of Chicago railroads to compel labor organizations to agree to submit differences to arbitration whenever negotiations between roads and employees fail to end in agreements. The lead in the movement apparently is being taken by the Rock Island and Burlington and one or two other strong western lines.

The arbitration clause is being proposed with a view of insuring results and increasing the probability of both sides beginning negotiations with a case which they are not afraid to submit to the public. If the railroads cannot induce the labor organizations to agree to the ultimate arbitration plan it is likely that before long a general arbitration board will be selected to represent all railroads territorially allied.

FASHION NOTES.

Italian and Irish Lace—Simplicity In Fashions.

Imitations of coarse Italian lace will be popular as the season advances and will prove a rival to the Irish lace, but the latter is smarter for the adornment of outside garments owing to its raised figures.

The pelerine or little loose sack coat may be skillfully manipulated by the amateur. The chief difficulty in making a pelerine is the fitting on the shoulders, and the amateur must guard against making the woman with already sloping shoulders look ridiculous.

The keynote of the best fashions is simplicity—costly simplicity if you like, but still simplicity. Great discretion is used in the matter of trimmings. The worst of trimmings is that once they are used the untrimmed are apt to overdo them. We become a little tired of cords, passementerie and Armenian embroideries. They are all very well in their way, but directly they are overdone and copied in all sorts of cheap stuff the smart woman will have none of them.

The woman who is unable to spend much on her gown had better put it into cut instead of trimming.

The illustration shows an evening coat of black lace.

PICTURESQUE EFFECTS.

Rare and Becoming Gowns of Chiffon and Lace.

The picture dinner gown was at one time known as the tea gown. Now tea gowns are chiefly known by the name of picture frocks. It is difficult to draw any definite line between the two, for once we arrive at the floppy, comfortable gown it is exclusively for lounging purposes and is known as the penguin.

With a very few exceptions there is no doubt that the picture frock is excessively becoming. Chiffon and lace of course form the chief elements in the composition of the picturesque toilet. Other fabrics are oriental satin, crepe de chine and all such clinging and yet sumptuous looking materials. Old brocades are being used but sparingly and in soft weaves. All the soft fabrics of the hour lend themselves admirably to the picturesque.

Fichus of white lace or point d'esprit edged with lace add greatly to the appearance of such a gown.

Hemstitched and also fagoted materials are to be bought by the yard beautifully made.

The picture shows a house gown made of soft plaited silk and trimmed with an odd effect of heavy lace.

Dr. J. M. Evans, of Phoenix, Ariz., who was under arrest at Youngstown for some weeks last fall on the charge of embezzlement in connection with a gold mining scheme in which he and Pittsburg accusers were interested, has brought suit against well known Pittsburg men for $285,000.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional means. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear, which is not a sign of deafness, but it is a sign of the disease. When it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure, and for circulars, free.

Commenting on the investigation which it has conducted concerning the delay in court proceedings and its cause, the State Journal, of Columbus, says: "The facts are that the common pleas courts of Ohio have fewer cases brought before them now than five or even ten years ago, yet they are further behind with those on the docket than they were then. This is not because the common pleas judges do not work. The majority of them at least work longer hours than most laboring men and harder than members of the bar who earn like incomes. Nor will the remedy most often suggested in such cases—more judges—meet the situation. The only remedy lies in a radical reform of judicial procedure in the common pleas courts. The present rules are antiquated. They foster and encourage delay. They permit too much time to elapse before a case can be tried. They require the judges to give too much thought and attention to technical, legal quibbles before the merits of a case are heard. They enable attorneys to drag trials out by pettifoggish cross-examination. There is a crying need for a reform of the code of legal procedure. It would relieve the common pleas judges of a vast mass of technical quibbling by attorneys and would expedite the trial of cases. The present condition is a disgrace to Ohio. The next legislature should take up the whole question and see that the laws are amended so that court procedure will be prompt and business like."

It is fitting that President Roosevelt should dedicate the monument at San Francisco which commemorates Dewey's victory at Manila. The first spadeful of earth was turned for the monument by the late President McKinley on the occasion of his visit to San Francisco two years ago. The monument, the cost of which was about $35,000, subscribed by the people of that city, consists of a tall column of granite, resting on a broad base, at the bottom of which are four buttresses, which will support figures of heroic size. The emblematic figure in bronze at the top of the shaft is twelve feet in height and represents Victory. Admiral Dewey is perhaps the first of naval heroes to see his exploits recorded on a monument, and he deserves all the honors that have been thrust upon him.

Its a poor injunction rule that won't work both ways. The boot is now on the other foot at Omaha in the existing labor troubles. A district court judge has issued an injunction against the business men and proprietors even more sweeping than that issued last week against the unionists by the federal court. The order restrains the business men from refusing to sell goods to dealers who employ union labor, prevents them from boycotting union labor, requires the Business Men's association to cease holding meetings or conspiring against the unions, or in any way interfering with the unions in the management of their affairs.

The chief of police is to be commended for his determination to rid the city of vagrants. There is small excuse for vagrancy here, as there is work to be had by all able-bodied men who seek it. For the sick and penniless places are provided. Those without visible means of support can take their choice between going to work and relieving the city of their presence.

E. M. Bigelow, director of public works, in Pittsburg, is not the only man who can gaze upon his own monument. Admiral Dewey can now do likewise if he will take the trouble to go to San Francisco.

Bishop Lawrence, of the Episcopal church, is undoubtedly right. There is more need of personal revision than a change of church names or creeds.

The Morocco rebels are likely to get a thorough tanning unless they get off the war path.

EX-CHIEF THOMPSON IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

Has Secured a Responsible Position With a Well Known Local Firm.

Former Chief of Police Thomas V. Thompson was not long, after the expiration of his term of office, in securing a lucrative position, it being announced today that he had connected himself with the real estate and insurance firm of George H. Owen & Co. Just what part of the work Mr. Thompson will take up has not been announced this afternoon. Any part of it, however, will be new to him, but his long experience in business matters and his hustling abilities are such as to warrant the prediction that he will be eminently successful.

The many friends of the ex-chief will be pleased to learn that he has secured a comfortable berth and is to continue a citizen of East Liverpool.

threats and heaping abuse on the pair.

Finally Mrs. Davis demanded to know on what authority the stranger made such charges and he produced a marriage certificate and a letter from the girl's mother. Upon the certificate appeared the name of George Hill. Mrs. Davis then demanded that both the men leave the premises, she permitting the woman to remain for the night. They left in company, quarreling and evidently on the verge of coming to blows.

The night was one of terror to Mrs. Davis, as her husband was out of town. Fearing further trouble she called in several neighbors. Both of the men returned to the neighborhood and were heard prowling around the house during the night. Evidently the woman's companion did not fear violence at the hands of the husband, as he appeared at the house this morning and went to his rooms. A short time later the husband appeared and learning of Tomosco's presence demanded that he be ordered away. Tomosco refused to leave the place until Mrs. Davis promised that the husband would not witness his departure. Upon the pretext of wanting to reread the marriage certificate and letter, Mrs. Davis induced Hill to accompany her to the kitchen. She was almost frantic over the trouble the couple were causing her and ready to do almost anything to be rid of them.

Tomosco was as good as his word, but he had no intention of leaving alone. When he crept down the stairs the woman was with him, but the husband's suspicions were not aroused for a few moments. Then he made a wild dash to the street and started in pursuit of the fleeing couple. He overtook them and this time did not stop to bandy words. He attacked Tomosco with his fists and a desperate fight ensued, finally ended by interference on the part of the woman.

The trio then proceeded to the central portion of the city and boarded a car for Wellsville. Their movements, after their arrival in that city, have not been recorded.

During his wild talk Hill confided to Mrs. Davis his belief that the dark-skinned foreigner possessed a hypnotic influence over his wife. He claimed that Tomosco was a bold, bad man and had on other occasions been a participant in similar escapades. He claimed he had been married for a number of years to the woman and that they had one child, evidently the one over which the woman was grieving. Most of their married life has been spent in Ellwood City, Pa. Tomosco and the woman, it is stated, came here from Tiltonville, where both were employed in the art pottery.

It is stated that Hill wanted his wife to return with him to their Pennsylvania home, so that he could expedite a legal separation. The woman agreed, but availed herself of the first opportunity to elude him.

What disposition will be made of the furniture in the rooms at the Davis home was not known late this afternoon. Mrs. Hill will not permit any of the trio to return to their apartments, feeling keenly the trouble that has fallen to her lot. She is entirely above censure in the matter, as there was no reason to suspect the true state of affairs.

MAYOR MAKES APPOINTMENTS

Members of Public Safety Board, Tax Commission and Health Board.

THE SELECTIONS APPROVED

Council Selected a New Constable And Wrestles With the Matter of the Public Service Budget—Wrangle Over Janitor.

The feature of greatest interest at the council meeting last evening was the announcement of the appointments of the mayor. They were as follows:

Board of Public Safety—For four years, Edward S. Martin; for two years, Byron D. Beacom.

Board of Tax Commissioners—For four years, J. J. Grafton; for three years, Andrew Brennan; for two years, William J. Maloney; for one year, Judge P. M. Smith.

For member of Board of Health—For five years, John F. McQueen.

Every member of the council was present. W. E. Butler appeared in regard to the vacation of the alley which he has asked to be vacated several times. This alley runs from James street to Highland avenue. He asks that it be vacated and he be given the right to level it, as at present it is impossible for vehicles to trespass and acts as a water shed and runs the water onto his property. The ordinance was placed on its third and final reading and passed.

The ordinance for the improving of Lisbon street, by paving from Little Yellow creek bridge to corporation line, after passing two previous readings, was lost on its third, Bissett and Anderson voting no.

A petition signed by the residents of Fourteenth street asking that the street be opened from Commerce street to Hill street, so as to allow residents to have gas and water. This matter was placed in the hands of the ordinance committee for investigation and report at next meeting.

Next the appointments of the mayor were submitted for approval. It was necessary to vote on each board separately. The board of public safety passed, McDonald voting no. The board of tax commissioners passed, Bissett voting no. J. F. McQueen went through with a unanimous vote.

The filing of the office of constable, made vacant by the resignation of Constable-elect J. H. Morehead, was next disposed of. There were two applicants, P. E. Spires and Dallas Pittinger. A vote was taken by ballot, which resulted in the election of Spires, he receiving four votes and Pittinger three.

A petition from the sewer building contractors was read, asking that permits be issued to none but practical sewer builders. The board of public service was ordered not to issue permits to any but regular builders.

The board of public service was present and explained all about the budget asking for an appropriation for one month's expenses. At first a vote was about to be taken on the whole budget, but on a suggestion from Mr. Stewart each item was taken up separately. The following is the budget: Engineer's department, $568; supervisor of streets, $400; salaries of members, $100; city building janitor, $45; lighting, $500. Mr. O'Grady moved that the amount for the engineer be appropriated, providing the street inspector's salary of $65 and $12 street car fare be subtracted. There was little discussion about the $65, but considerable talking was done about the $12. O'Grady thought he could walk and save this amount. While he would be walking it would cost the city three times that amount in time. This amount it not for the engineer alone, but for his whole corps, tools and everything else. After discussing the matter for some the $12 was finally added and the $803 was allowed to go through.

Next was the amount for street supervisor, $400, and $75 for having all the paved streets cleaned, as George Patterson & Co. gave that bid for the work. At first they were going to deduct the $75 from the $100, but after some deliberation both amounts were allowed.

The salaries of $100 went through without a question and also the $500 for lights, but when they came to the $15 for a janitor there was a sudden halt. O'Grady wanted to ignore it altogether. Bissett asked if there was to be a janitor and a building police. Here the mayor came forward and made a lengthy speech. He said an ordinance was passed some years ago in which the duties of the building police were to act as janitor, and that he saw no reason why an extra janitor should be employed at the expense of the city. He could not see the necessity of adding this extra $45 to the city's expense. Bowers said that the board of public service was only doing what the new code says it shall do and asked why the janitor appointed could not be endowed with police authority. Mr. Herbert was asked his opinion in the matter and stated: "All I have to say is, we are doing what the law says we shall do." After a discussion of nearly an hour a vote was taken and every member of council voted against making the appropriation. How it will reach a final settlement cannot be told.

At a recent meeting of the board of public service it granted the gas company the privilege of laying gas mains in several different localities. Mayor Fogo brought this matter up and said the company should be stopped unless it had a franchise. He said: "We should have free light and heat in all public buildings, and if the gas company is made to get a new franchise this can be provided for." The matter was placed with the ordinance committee to make an investigation and report at the next meeting.

Small bills amounting to $31 were ordered paid.

An ordinance granting the Wellsville China company the right to lay a railroad track on Wood street to connect with the belt line was placed on its third and final reading by suspending the rules, but was lost. It was then put on its first reading and passed with Bissett and Anderson voting no. These two men voted no the first time also.

A petition from the C. & F. railroad company, asking the privilege to build a watch box for the watchman between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, the same to extend a short distance over onto the street, but in no way to hinder traffic, was read and passed the final reading. The matter was placed in the hands of the street committee to meet with the railroad company and determine a location. This house or box will be 4x4 feet and will not be a benefit to the company, but to employees.

The sum of $1509.80 was ordered borrowed to make appropriation to the board of public service and the auditor was authorized to issue a warrant on the treasurer for $700, the amount ordered paid at the last meeting. Adjourned.

Ead Effects of a Cut.

The condition of Mrs. H. C. Aughinbaugh's hand does not seem to improve as rapidly as was expected. It was injured about four weeks ago. She went out to a meat wagon and was standing in the rear when the horses took fright and started. She grasped for support and her hand struck a cleaver, cutting a severe gash. The wound was dressed and thought to be getting along well until a week later when it began to swell. Dr. Rex, of this city, and Dr. Rex, of New York, performed an operation, after which both physicians thought it would heal. Two or three days later another operation was necessary.

Whether the hand will heal or not cannot be told as yet.

New Bank Soon to Be Opened at New Cumberland With $100,000 Capital.

A meeting of much importance will be held May 22 by the subscribers to the stock and others interested in the New Cumberland Trust and Savings company. The new concern will start business with a paid in capital of $100,000 and will be of much benefit to Hancock and Brooke counties. At this meeting the organization will be perfected and will engage in business as early a date after the meeting as possible. The Pittsburg end of the capital will be controlled by the Keystone National bank, of that city, which is favorably impressed with the business that may be developed from this section of the Ohio valley.

It is understood that numerous good opportunities will be taken advantage of in the territory through the representation of local capital, who are well acquainted with much valuable coal territory. It is stated on authority that on the day set for the opening of business that money to the full amount of capital will be placed for the general transaction of business.

PLANS ARE READY

Presbyterian Church Officials Will Meet Tonight to Discuss Building Project.

The trustees and the building committee of the Presbyterian church will hold a meeting this evening, when a blue print of the proposed plans of the church building will be in readiness for the inspection of the church officers. If the plans and specifications agree with the views of the body, immediate steps will be taken toward placing the plans in the hands of contractors for figures for its erection.

The officials are unanimous in their opinion that the building of a church to cost a less amount than has been figured on in the drawing of the plans, or one of smaller seating capacity, would only result in future expenditure of funds. While it is considered quite an undertaking for the present small congregation, it is generally conceded that the building of the church according to the proposed plans will be advisable.

Funeral of Robert Leeper.

The funeral of Robert Leeper, aged about 76 years, was held from his former residence near Hookstown at 2 o'clock today. Mr. Leeper was a well known citizen of Beaver county, Pa., and is survived by his wife and one son, George Leeper, residing close to the homestead. Mr. Leeper was an old member of the United Presbyterian church of Hookstown, of which church he was an elder. The burial took place at Tomlinson's Run cemetery and a number of Chester people attended.

HIS LITTLE SPREE COST HIM $400

DAVID DOHERTY AWOKE TO FIND FRIENDS AND MONEY GONE.

Pitiful Tale Told By a Man Who Was Arrested Yesterday For Drunkenness.

David Doherty, arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Aufderheide, was released this morning upon the payment of $2 and costs for being drunk. At the hearing before the mayor he told a pitiful story of his experience in the city. He came here about seven weeks ago and commenced canvassing the city for work at his trade, that of a sewing machine adjuster.

Upon his arrival he had nearly $400, money that he had saved after months of hard toil, and intended investing it before long in something that would be of benefit to him. After six weeks in the city he met some doting livers and fell into their hands, starting on a big spree that terminated in his arrest yesterday. When he awoke in the city jail study over his undesirable plight brought to memory the fact of his having had the roll of money when he started with the gang and he turned his pockets inside out with the hope of finding it, but to no avail. It was gone and he has not the least idea who got it or where he was when it was stolen.

Chief Wyman was anxious to get a tip, but could learn nothing that would give him a scintilla of a clue and the unfortunate man was compelled to leave central station almost penniless and without hopes of ever recovering his riches. He also lost a couple of traveling bags while on the drunk, but they were found by an officer last evening.

The police have a clue to the men who were with Doherty and arrests are expected.

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of all the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book containing valuable information free.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

SALINEVILLE

Salineville, May 14.—Mrs. W. A. Thompson, accompanied by her little son Bruce, drove over from Lisbon to visit her old home here.

The many friends and relatives of Miss Gergetta Walker, formerly of Pravo, will be pleased to learn that she will graduate at Geneva college, Beaver Falls, on the 28th inst.

W. A. Thompson, county treasurer, was in Salineville to receive taxes on Wednesday and today.

Elmer Henderson, of Lisbon, a former citizen of this town, fell from a delivery wagon last Monday and sustained a broken leg just below the knee.

Frank Edwards, who was born and raised at Salineville, died a few days ago in a Toledo state institution where he had been confined the last two years for treatment.

Andrew Dodds, of Oakland, Ind., a brother of William Dodds, is spending a few days with friends in this town.

William Dodds, accompanied by his brother from Indiana, went to East Liverpool Tuesday on business.

Willis P. Lewton, wife and twin daughters, Ruth and Mary, went to Scroggsfield to visit his sister, Mrs. John Robinson.

The home of John S. George, near Mechanicstown, burned Monday with the contents in the absence of the family.

THRONG OF BUYERS CONTINUE

Special Half Price Brings Many Patrons to B. C. Ansley.

The people of East Liverpool and vicinity appreciate the great advantage B. C. Ansley obtained for them, in getting the Dr. Howard company to allow the regular 50 cents size of Dr. Howard's specific, for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, to be sold at half price, 25 cents, and have bought hundreds of bottles.

Every bottle of the specific sold by B. C. Ansley has had his personal guarantee to return the money if it was not satisfactory, but none has come back, showing the wonderful curative power of this remedy.

It is only recently, on the persistent advice of B. C. Ansley that Dr. Howard's specific has been sold for less than 50 cents, but urged that it would be better to secure a quick introduction in East Liverpool in this way and the result has proven his good judgment.

If you have not already taken advantage of this chance to get a month's medical treatment for 25 cents, be sure to call at B. C. Ansley's today, for he has only a small amount of the specific on hand.

Life Plant Cures Rheumatism.

Because it purifies the Blood. Rheumatism is caused by the presence of an excess of Uric acid in the Blood. Uric acid is caused by a peculiar fermentation product. You must remove the cause to cure Rheumatism. Drive out the Uric acid and prevent its formation. Life Plant opens up the organs of excretion, which in time carry off the Uric acid, and thus removes the cause. It not only removes the cause, but it prevents the formation of the Uric acid, and prevents a recurrence of the disease. It renews life. Restores and renews the vital energy in the blood and makes you strong and vigorous. Read what they say. Crater says:

REALM OF SPORTS

EXCITING GAME PROMISED

West End Athletics and Wellsville Will Cross Bats Tomorrow and Saturday.

The West End Athletics will play Wellsville on the latter's grounds tomorrow and Saturday. The lineup for the W. E. A's will for tomorrow be as follows: L. Hammerling, catcher; G. Emmerling pitcher; McAvoy, short stop; Tyson, first base; W. Carey, second base; Gibson, third base; Myler, left field; E. Carey, middle field; Bennett, right field.

The game will be one of unusual interest, both teams being well represented with East Liverpool players, and there is promise of a big crowd. The betting today is 2 to 1 in favor of the East Liverpool team.

An Operation on His Face.

Kid Broad, who fought Benny Yanger at Louisville on Derby night, will not be seen in the ring again for a month or more, as he has undergone an operation to have a piece of bone removed from his nose. This is a similar operation to that performed on Terry McGovern in New York some weeks before he met Dave Sullivan at the Southern Athletic club. Parson Davies, Broad's manager, says that the Kid's next bout will be either with Aurelia Herrera or Young Mowatt. Broad won a fight in one round at New Orleans the other night. His victim was Benny Snyder.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

The C. A. C. of Toronto would like to play any 16 or 17-year-old ball team. Fred Carstensen is manager.

The Independent Hose company has organized a ball team at Salem, to include the best players in that city. N. W. Alaback is manager.

The summer schedule of the Youngstown Gun club has been prepared. It begins on May 21, with a handicap shoot, and continues until October 22. Fourteen shoots in all will be held.

At the Cleveland blue ribbon sale Anzella, 2:06½, b. m., who won a great reputation in the grand circuit races last year, was sold for $5,000, to O. G. Kent, of Cleveland. Last season Anzella won $16,000.

The highest price ever paid in eastern Ohio for a native raised horse was that recently paid by Canton dealers to D. Moore, of Short Creek, Harrison county, for Rastus, a 2-year-old Norman Percheron stallion, sire Pluton Imp., and dam Imp., the sum being $1,800.

Caution.

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of consumption and throat and lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boesche's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds, perhaps, but for severe coughs, bronchitis, croup—and especially for consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25c size has just been introduced this year. Regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

ALVIN H. BULGER.

Papers Served on Harriman.

Evanston, Wyo., May 14.—Mr. Harriman's train was stopped by the sheriff and legal papers served on the railroad president. It is probable that Mr. Harriman will go to Salt Lake and appear in the federal court.

Ohio Foresters Adjourn.

New Philadelphia, O., May 14.—The grand court of Ohio of the Foresters of America closed its biennial session. Coshocton was selected as the next meeting place of the court.

Hackmen Strike at Funeral.

Toledo, May 14.—During the funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Mary Kamm the drivers of hack struck and refused to work because the hearse was driven by a non-union man. The officiating undertakers filled the strikers' places just in time to prevent a scene.

Governor Thrown from Horse.

Newark, N. J., May 14.—Governor Franklin Murphy was thrown from his horse and is confined to his bed. His mount stepped on a rolling stone, throwing him to the roadway. The animal's right leg, bruising it painfully but breaking no bones.

Passenger Engineer Killed.

Cincinnati, May 14.—A Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis passenger train ran into a switch engine at Ivorydale and John Haicy, engineer of the passenger, was killed.

College President Inaugurated.

Oberlin, O., May 14.—The inauguration of Henry C. King, D. D., as president of Oberlin college, has taken place.

Bed

Ridden From Severe Heart Trouble.

Pale, Weak and Constantly Tired.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

"I write to thank you for the cure I received from your remedies. When I began taking your medicine I was confined to my bed most of the time. Our best home doctors told me there was no cure for me on account of the weak condition of my heart. I was pale and weak, constantly tired, had no appetite and could not sleep. I was exceedingly nervous and easily irritated in consequence. At last I began taking as a last resort Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. They cured me and I am now able to work on the farm every day. I gladly recommend your remedies to all sufferers."—Wm. B. Campbell, Mantoloking, N. J.

"For years I could not turn my head to the right but it caused great pain in the back of my neck and it seemed at times my head would burst with pain. I would sometimes lie down, and could not get up without help. My neck was so stiff. About once a week I would have to go to bed with a very severe headache. By using one of Dr. Miles' Nerve Plasters on my neck and occasionally using the Anti-Pain Pills, which always relieved the headache instantly, I completely overcame my trouble, and both headache and stiffness have disappeared."—Miss Lucy Bilows, Cleveland, Ohio.

Constipation Cured

Those who have used salts, castor oil, and the many home and manufactured purgatives, know that in such treatment there is no possibility of cure from constipation. These remedies are at most physics and do absolutely no good. In fact they frequently provoke piles, fistula, female disorders and many cases of appendicitis are traceable to their use. Soon the ordinary doses of these physics fail to have any effect upon the bowels.

There never was a case of temporary or obstinate constipation that Mull's Grape Tonic would not cure. First, Mull's Grape Tonic is unlike any other treatment for constipation. It is the greatest and most positive laxative known. But that isn't what cures. It is the tonic properties of the grape and other fruits that strengthen the worn-out muscles of the intestinal tract. Mull's Grape Tonic builds flesh, makes strength and creates rich, red blood. Mull's Grape Tonic is the finest thing ever known for constipation. It is guaranteed to cure you. Large sample bottle sent free to any address on receipt of 10c. for postage by Lightning Medicine Co., Rock Island, Ill. Send your druggist's name. All druggists sell Mull's Grape Tonic at 50 cents a bottle.

Objected to Free Puffs.

John Knapp of the St. Louis Republican had little use for press agents, and it took a mighty shrewd man to get a free puff from him. He never would publish a lawyer's or a doctor's name if he could avoid it, for fear they might derive some benefit from the free advertisement. It is said that one morning mention was made in the Republican of a man having died of Bright's disease. Old man Knapp hunted up the proofreader and called him into the private office.

"Why did you let that get into the paper?" asked the old man, indicating with his forefinger the objectionable paragraph.

"I don't see but that's all right," said the reader.

"You don't, eh?" snapped old man Knapp. "You don't, eh? Do you think we want to advertise that man Bright for nothing? He never had an ad. in this paper in his life."

Manx Cats.

The peculiar breed of cats found in the Isle of Man differs from others only in that they have no tails, and the lack thereof is the insoluble puzzle to naturalists. Since it has become the fashion to explain everything by the principles of evolution, two theories have been offered—one that, owing to the limited range and lack of dense forests, the original cats had no use for tails, and consequently they (the tails, not the cats) gradually atrophied for lack of use and became rudimentary; another that the primitive Manx cut off all their cats' tails and in the course of time developed a tailless breed. One thing is certain—the cats are there, and they have no tails.

NO ACTION TAKEN AGAINST RAILROAD

President of Public Service Board Says Council Must Deal With It.

A QUESTION OF AUTHORITY

Raised Which Presents Several Different Phases—Different Sections of the Code Which Apparently Do Not Harmonize.

President Taylor and Jacob Shenkel, of the board of public service, held a meeting last evening for the purpose of transacting considerable business of importance, but owing to the sickness of the third member of the board, W. L. Smith, who became suddenly ill while in Wellsville yesterday afternoon, making it impossible for him to be present, there was but little accomplished.

When the meeting was called to order there were several interested citizens present and the following city officials had assembled by request of the board: City Solicitor Davidson, City Auditor Davidson, City Engineer Kelly, Supt. Morley, of the water works, and Superintendent of Highways Dickey.

Clerk Gipner had been served with the order from council demanding that the board of public service take immediate steps to have the officials of the C. & P. railroad remove the switch which lies on Water street, undeniably city property. President Taylor raised an immediate objection to the interference by the board in any manner with the railroad company. He stated that he did not think it the duty of the board to enforce any ordinance or resolution created by any former council and that he would not favor action until perfectly satisfied on the matter.

Solicitor Davidson was asked for his opinion and he without hesitation expressed it as his belief that the board should execute the order, arguing that council is a legislative body. He also maintained that the order was not the result of the creation by the old council, but because the present council wants the property vacated. He was not, however, as clear as he wished to be on the subject, and had no objection to deferring action.

From a perusal of the code it is learned that the question that has arisen in this particular case is a perplexing one and one wherein careful judgment is necessary. Sections of the code pertaining to the subject are very conflicting. Section 28: "In all municipal corporations council shall have the care, supervision and control of public highways, streets, avenues, alleys, sidewalks, public grounds, bridges, aqueducts and viaducts within the corporation, and shall cause the same to be kept open and in repair and free from nuisance; and with respect to the dedication, opening and vacation of streets, as well as labor upon them, etc."

Section 140: "The directors of public service shall supervise the improvement and repair of streets, avenues, alleys, lands, lanes, squares, wharves, docks, landings, market houses, bridges, viaducts, aqueducts, sidewalks, sewer drains, ditches, culverts, ship channels, streams and water courses; the lighting, sprinkling and cleaning of all public places; and the construction of all public improvements and public works, except as otherwise provided in this act."

After reading the two above sections the question very naturally arises: "Which, council or the board of public works, is required to look after city property?"

Monroe Patterson asked the board to grant him the privilege of placing scales in front of the Patterson machine works on Walnut street. After promising to clean and keep clean the street he was given the permission.

The much-needed street scraper will be in the hands of Supt. Dickey before many weeks have passed. Had the full membership of the board been present last evening a bid no doubt would have been accepted for the furnishing of one. There were several bids submitted, but they were laid over until the next meeting, which will likely be held before the end of the week.

Auditor Davidson's compiled report showing the condition of the city's finances was submitted and carefully investigated. The board thought it expedient that some action be taken and will assist so far as they are empowered in relieving the situation.

THE BROTHERHOOD WELL SATISFIED

Ed Menge, the new secretary, will become a citizen of East Liverpool, the duties of his office making it imperative that he be with the president. There is not a more popular man in the entire city of Wheeling than Mr. Menge and a better qualified man for the position could not have been found in the ranks of the Brotherhood. That his election was an entire surprise is not a reflection upon his candidacy. He occupied a rather novel position in the contest up to the time of the voting and until then had practically no chance to win. But one of the peculiar contingencies, incident to such a contest, arose and at once became the logical candidate.

On the first ballot for secretary John T. Wood had but eight votes less than a majority of the entire number. He was the favorite candidate among a number of those high in the councils of the organization and the delegates were led to believe that a slate had been made, which included Mr. Wood for secretary and S. W. Moore for treasurer. This belief drew the fire of all the delegates who were opposed to slate making upon Mr. Wood and had the effect of cementing the forces of the two other candidates. This proved to be a stronger combination than that supporting the alleged slate and on the second ballot Mr. Wood lost ground and Mr. Menge gained heavily. The jiggersmen and killmen are reported to have been at odds on the candidates, the former supporting Mr. Menge. Local No. 6, of Wheeling, has no complaint to make over the distribution of the offices, as two of them are from that local.

There was quite a contest over the selection of the two delegates to represent the Brotherhood at the next convention of the American Federation of Labor. None of the candidates had made a canvass for the honor and some of them were not aware that their names would be presented. The candidates were President Duffy, First Vice President Hutchins, Second Vice President Harry Hailes, L. M. Martin, of Camden; John Wood, of East Liverpool, and Frank Van Fossen, of New Castle. Messrs. Hailes and Van Fossen were elected on the first ballot.

By vote of the convention these delegates were instructed to vote and work at the next convention of the Federation for the recognition of the National Stogie Makers' League, whose headquarters are located in Wheeling. For a number of years, the Federation, presumably at the behest of Samuel Gompers, who is a cigar maker, has refused the league recognition, for no reason apparently, except that the cigar makers desire to down the stogie makers in season and out.

Salaries Increased.

Columbiana county postmasters have been recognized generally by the postoffice department at Washington. At the same time that Postmaster Surles, of this city, received word of an increase in salary, the postmasters of Lisbon and East Palestine received similar messages. The one at Lisbon will now receive $2,000 per year and the one at East Palestine $1,700.

How the Fox Settled A Dispute

One day after the Peacock had been walking about and uttering its shrill cries to attract attention to its tail feathers the Goose waddled up from the pond and said:

"I'll admit that your feathers are more highly colored than mine, but if I had such a voice on me I should expect a violent death at any moment."

"What! You, with your hiss and your squawk, dare to criticize my voice?" replied the Peacock.

"I'm no nightingale, but my voice doesn't set everybody's teeth on edge."

"Nor mine. If it isn't as soft as the bluebird's, it's at least as musical as the robin's. You are simply jealous of me."

"I say your voice is like broken glass."

"And yours is like flies."

"Ladies," observed the Fox from his lurking place in a bush, "there seems to be a difference of opinion here, and it will please me much to act as referee. Please step this way behind the hedge and let me hear your respective voices."

Both Goose and Peacock knew that the Fox was their common enemy and that they ran a great risk in approaching him, but such was their envy of each other and each so ardently hoped for his favorable opinion that prudence was cast aside.

"That is beautiful—very beautiful," replied the Fox after the Peacock had uttered a few shrieks.

"And I can't see how that could be bettered," he added as the Goose flapped her wings and cried out.

"Didn't I say so?" exclaimed the Peacock.

"And hasn't he decided in my favor?" replied the Goose.

"I'm saying that as far as voices go," remarked the Fox as he made ready, "one of you reminds me of the bobolink and the other of the nightingale, but—"

"But what?" they cried in chorus.

"But the real question is as to plumpness and flavor. Excuse me, will you, while I break your necks and indulge in a little dinner!"

Moral.—Envy and vanity are but weapons in the hands of an enemy.

The Beautiful Turquoise.

The turquoise is considered as a talisman in Persia, its native soil. It preserves its possessor from accidents and insures constancy in affections. The value of the turquoise depends on its shade and its size, especially its thickness. Those classed as belonging to the old rock are valued very highly. Emblems of youth, of sentiment and tender recollections, the turquoise may be called the forget-me-not of stones.

HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE POSSIBLY EXPLAINS IT

Domestic Drama Not Without Comedy Features
Enacted On Thompson Hill.

FLIGHT, FIGHT AND OTHER COMPLICATIONS

An erring wife and her companion were surprised last night by the husband at a house on Vine street, where they had taken rooms and were living, as they thought, in impenetrable seclusion. The appearance was followed by scenes bordering on the melodramatic, and the usual quietude of Thompson hill was disturbed until the trio left for Wellsville this morning. That murder was avoided is the most surprising feature of the episode.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davis purchased a home on Vine street a short time ago and advertised the rooms on the second floor for rent. There were a number of applicants and from them Mr. and Mrs. Davis selected a couple giving their names as Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Tomosco. They rented the entire upper floor and furnished the rooms for light housekeeping. Tomosco appeared to be a foreigner and it was later learned that he was born in Austria and followed the profession of a china painter. Mrs. Tomosco was a comely woman of about 39 years. There were no children.

That they were not what they claimed to be was not once suspected by Mr. and Mrs. Davis, and only on one or two occasions were their actions out of the ordinary. Mrs. Tomosco seemed to be depressed in spirits and spent most of the time weeping. She did not confide her troubles to Mrs. Davis further than to state that she was lonely without her little daughter, a child of a former marriage, and that she had been divorced from her first husband. Tomosco objected to her leaving their apartments and was usually at hand to prevent her telling strangers anything of their past lives.

The denouement came last night about 6 o'clock and was attended by a scene rarely enacted outside of books of fiction. A stranger presented himself at the Davis home and after learning that Mr. and Mrs. Tomosco were there, asked to see them. He asked that Mrs. Davis accompany him upstairs and from his tone and manner Mrs. Davis had a foreboding of what was about to happen. When the door of the apartment was opened by Mrs. Tomosco there was a scene of wild confusion. With stern bearing the stranger exclaimed: "I demand my lawful wedded wife," while the couple retreated to the remotest corner of the room. Mrs. Davis was horror-stricken, expecting every moment to witness a terrible tragedy. The stranger contented himself, however, with making

CHANGES NEEDED AT CITY HALL

A Rearrangement of Office Accommodations Will Probably be Made.

DANCER AT THE CITY JAIL

To be sworn in and organize by electing officers, the board of public safety, W. L. Taylor, D. M. Ogilvie, J. H. Grafton and J. H. Dawson, will meet in the mayor's office this evening. They assembled there last evening, but nothing of an official nature was done, it being the desire to defer business until they were qualified.

One member of the board when questioned as to what the initial step of the body would be replied that he was entirely ignorant of any future action and would be content to wait developments. He, however, intimated that it would be the endeavor of the board to have office quarters changed materially around the city hall and other changes made. It is likely that the board will for the present occupy the mayor's sanctum, but they think the room entirely too small, and if they conclude to meet permanently with the mayor they will undoubtedly provide more commodious quarters for that official.

Chief of Police Wyman has a commendable idea on one alteration that should be made at the city hall, and it is not unlikely that the board will be called upon to consider it. The chief has become convinced that the quarters used for the confinement of female prisoners are from several standpoints decidedly inadequate. The quarters are located in the frame addition to the city building, and are of frail structure. Close beside them is a gas stove and in several parts of the addition there are gas jets which are kept burning every night.

If some paper or a portion of the frame work would catch fire some night while the cells contained a prisoner and no officer happened to be around the building, Mr. Wyman asks, What would prevent the prisoner from cremation? She could not possibly get out and the apartment being of dry wood would burn quickly and fiercely. It is easily to be seen that the fate of the prisoner would be sealed. The quarters are open to the rain and blasts, throwing a prisoner in an unhealthy predicament. These things, considered from a humane basis, will

HUSBAND ACCUSED OF IDLENESS AND NEGLECT

A West Township Woman Brings Suit For Divorce, Telling Sad Story.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—Cora E. Gottschall, living near Bayard, West township, has sued for divorce from William Gottschall, asking the custody of their two daughters aged 4 and 2 respectively. Mrs. Gottschall says they were married November 19, 1898, at Minerva. She alleges that since November 25, 1900, her husband has been guilty of gross neglect by reason of idleness and dissipation, and refusing to live with his family or contribute to their support.

The wife says she has been compelled to depend for support on her own labor and on the charity of relatives. C. S. Speaker is her attorney.

ITS LEGALITY IS ASSAILED

Allegation That the Ordinance for C. A. Smith's Street Railway is Invalid.

INJUNCTION TO BE ASKED

In a communication which was submitted to City Solicitor George B. Davidson shortly after noon today, exceptions are taken to the legality and validity of the ordinance passed several weeks ago granting C. A. Smith the privilege of erecting a street car line to the East End. It is contended that the move is a ruse on the part of the East Liverpool & Wellsville line to delay temporarily the building of the road and prevent its ever being built if possible.

Mr. Smith has been cognizant of the move for some time and anticipates no trouble whatever in the matter. The people want the road, a fact displayed by the numberless petitions presented to council at the time the ordinance was passed, and are going to have it. Solicitor Davidson states that he will not take any action in the matter, positively refusing to accede to the demand of those who have raised the cry.

The petition is as follows: East Liverpool, Ohio, May 13, 1903. George B. Davidson, City Solicitor of East Liverpool.

Dear Sir:—I hereby inform you that I am advised and believe that the ordinance passed by the city council of the city of East Liverpool, March 11, 1903, purporting to grant certain rights and privileges upon the streets and highways of said city, to one C. A. Smith and his assigns, is invalid and illegal. I therefore request you, as the city solicitor of said city, to apply in the name of said City of East Liverpool to a court of competent jurisdiction for an injunction against the city of East Liverpool, William A. Weaver, as mayor of said city; John N. Taylor, William L. Smith and Jacob

THE BROTHERHOOD WELL SATISFIED

Work of the Wheeling Convention Meets With General Approval.

ENCE, THE SECRETARY

Will Shortly Remove to This City And Enter Upon His Official Duties. Return of the Local Delegates. Personal Gossip.

Almost all of the delegates from East Liverpool in attendance upon the thirteenth annual convention of the N. B. of O. P. reached home yesterday afternoon and evening. A few of them remained until today. There was a general exodus from the city during yesterday afternoon among the delegates from both east and west and in the majority of cases the first train was none too soon for a start towards home. All the Trenton delegates, except those who will spend a few days here with friends, left Wheeling yesterday afternoon at 3:55 o'clock.

The newly-elected executive board held a brief meeting in Wheeling yesterday afternoon to pass upon some matters referred to it by the convention. Nothing of importance was transacted. The members of the board took advantage of the occasion to become better acquainted. All the members save President Duffy, First Vice President Hutchins and Third Vice President Hailes have never served as national officers and the duties are practically unknown to them.

Another peculiar feature was developed in the election of officers. First Vice President Frank Hutchins is the only one of the entire list of new officials to retain his old position, Secretary Duffy being advanced to president and Harry Hailes from fourth to third vice president.

Mr. Hutchins had made arrangements to come to East Liverpool with the local delegation and remain a few days renewing old acquaintances. He had planned this in view of the fact that the meeting of the executive board was to have been held here, but when this plan was altered and the meeting held in Wheeling, he decided to go directly to Trenton. There is not a more popular man in the organization than Mr. Hutchins and the increase in the salary of the first vice president and his re-election to that office is pleasing news to his host of friends.

Ex-President Hughes will remain in Wheeling, probably until Saturday, the guest of near relatives. He will spend several weeks here before going to Columbus to assume his duties of manager of the new Columbus pottery. Mr. Hughes has a host of friends in Wheeling, it being his former home. President Duffy is also a former Wheelingite and he experienced many happy reunions with old friends. He will at once enter upon his new work as the highest officer of the Brotherhood.

DAMAGE SUIT NOW ON TRIAL

Washingtonville Dispute Between Landlord and Tenant Reaches Court.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—The case of Horace G. Tetlow against George W. Allen, which came up from the court of Mayor Jonathan Longbottom, of Washingtonville, was tried before a jury today. The plaintiff says that on July 26, 1902, the defendant forcibly entered a dwelling house which the plaintiff was occupying and kept him and his family from possession of the house and from the use of their household effects for some time, causing the goods to be damaged by disuse.

Tetlow asks $100 damages. It seems that he rented the house and the trouble arose over a disagreement between the landlord and the tenant.

EVENTFUL DAY FOR THIS COUNTY

Columbiana County Men Won Office and Honors in Several Meetings.

ELKS AND OTHER ORDERS

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, May 14.—Salem and East Liverpool have certainly figured prominently in the public eye during the last two days. In addition to the election of Dr. A. C. Yengling, of Salem, as department commander of the G. A. R. and John J. Rose, of East Liverpool, as commander of the Sons of Veterans at Marietta, T. T. Church, of Salem, was elected treasurer of the State Homeopathic Medical society; W. F. Crossley, of Salem, was elected second vice president of the Independent Telephone Traffic company; C. F. Smith, exalted ruler of the Salem lodge of Elks, was elected a director of the Ohio Association of Elks, the last three bodies having met in this city yesterday. Altogether yesterday was an eventful day for the Columbiana county man. It was certainly his day. The selection of Messrs. Yengling and Rose as the heads of their respective organizations gives satisfaction hereabouts. Their elevation to these high offices is a great honor to each.

District Deputy L. P. Metzger, of Salem, and Exalted Ruler C. F. Smith, of Salem, and Hon. W. V. Blake, of East Liverpool, were the representatives of their respective lodges at the annual meeting of the Elks' association. All three gentlemen spoke at the gathering against the proposition to memorialize the national grand lodge to establish state grand lodges, which when put to a vote lost by a two to one majority. The next convention will be held at Lima. The election of officers resulted: President, E. H. Archer, Columbus; vice president, Thomas Trainer, Zanesville; secretary, J. M. Arndt, Lima; treasurer, George M. Hendy, Steubenville. Deputy Metzger was placed on a committee on good of the order.

Messrs. Ambrose Massey and Charles C. Spaulding, the former representing Osceola council, Daughters of Pocahontas, and the latter representing Iroquois tribe, both of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Massey and Mrs. John T. Wright, all of East Liverpool, arrived here last night from Circleville, where they attended the Great Council of Red Men. They returned home this morning. Past Grand Sachem John Stamm, of East Liverpool, arrived here this morning from Circleville. Mansfield gets the next meeting.

Lowest Stage for the Year. The lowest stage of water for the year was recorded today, the marks showing less than six feet in the channel. There is no immediate prospect for a substantial rise and the movements of the packets are seriously interfered with. The Ben Hur has been compelled to go to the bank, the little steamer Bessie Smith taking her trade. She is due down tonight at 8 o'clock. The Greenwood was built for a low water packet and has a much lighter draught than other boats her size. She is due up at 8 o'clock tonight.

Order of Appraisement.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—William G. Steele, as assignee of William Steele, has given an order of appraisement on Lisbon real estate. Appraisers, H. V. George, W. C. Morrow and H. D. Frey.

AN ISSUE OF BONDS TO RELIEVE THE CITY WILL MEET WITH FAVOR

Council Expected to Act Upon the Matter Tonight. Necessity for Such Action.

The adjourned meeting of council this evening will be one of the most important held by a councilmanic body in this city for a lengthy period. The express purpose of the meeting will be to provide a plan by which money can be obtained to wipe out a portion of the city's enormous indebtedness.

Various ideas have been expressed by the members of council and other city officials but the consensus of opinion now is that the only remedy for the situation will be to issue bonds to cover the amount and Solicitor Davidson spent some time today in preparing the necessary formulas.

A provision of the code makes compulsory a vote of the people on such issues and council has determined to set a date for a bond election at the meeting tonight. They have not determined on the exact date but will not defer it longer than absolutely necessary.

As before stated the indebtedness which council wishes to cover aggregates something over $59,000, but as the interest is piling up it has been decided to make the vote for a $60,000 issue and if it carries there will be sufficient money in the city's treasury to place the several funds which have been so greatly overdrawn on a sound basis and the dilemma will be relieved.

A member of the tax commission

stated last evening that the financial business of the city has been carried on for years in strict violation of the law and that not only the city officials, but the banking concerns from which they have borrowed money could be prosecuted for allowing the transaction of the business, which he declared was illegal, not only under the provisions of the code, but always has been.

It is well known by the official brethren that money cannot be paid for salaries, etc., unless it be in the fund designated for such payment. The allegation is made and not denied that heretofore a warrant would be issued for the payment of the policemen's salaries and notwithstanding that there was no money in the treasury credited to the police fund, the amount would be drawn from the general fund and paid. Such action is illegal and will not be tolerated in the future, making it necessary for the bond issue.

The banks that have been lending the money on the city's notes at 7 per cent interest will reap no more such harvests. President Taylor, of the board of public service, made a query at the meeting last night, "Why is it that a private citizen can borrow and unlimited amount upon the payment of 6 per cent and the city cannot get a cent unless 7 per cent is agreed to?"

CHANGE TO BE MADE AT UNION POTTERY

PLANT SHUT DOWN IN ORDER TO EFFECT IT.

Hereafter This Factory Will Make a Complete Line of Dinner Ware.

All the departments of the local plant of the Union Pottery company, Broadway and East Fifth streets, excepting the ware dressers and packers, have suspended while a change is being made from scheme to a dinner line. The alterations necessary will require at least two weeks' time.

This plant has been making nothing but scheme ware for several years, like the Chelsea plant, in the same company, until a few months ago. It is stated that the scheme order expired on the first day of this year and was not renewed. At any rate, the plant here has not been in full operation since that time.

The result of this change will be that a number of additional operatives, principally pressers and dish makers, will be added to the present force. The number of jigmen will remain the same, which insures an increased output.

Several local designers have submitted bids and designs for the new pieces necessary and the contract will be given in a few days. The present line of flats will be added to until it is made a full dinner line. Later several entirely new shapes will be brought out.

Appealed from Wellsville Court. Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—The case of Matthias Glaser, against the Pennsylvania company has been appealed from Justice W. F. Haney's court in Wellsville. It is alleged by the plaintiff that the company owes him $69.50 with interest from November 8, 1902, by reason of the transfer to him of an indebtedness of the company to Stephen Kalna for labor. The plaintiff got judgment for the full amount in the justice's court. Judge P. M. Smith is the plaintiff's attorney. Carey & Mullins represent the defendant.

At a Bankers' Meeting. Lisbon, May 14.—(Special)—Ross Firestone, of Firestone Bros' bank, went to Columbus today to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Ohio Bankers' association. He expects to return here Monday, accompanied by his wife, who has been in a sanitarium at Marion, O., since last fall. Mrs. Firestone's health is said to be much improved.

News and Notes About The Potteries

SECOND POTTERY AT CAMERON.

The deal for the pottery plant which is to be built in the Nichols addition in the East End has been consummated and the capital stock has been subscribed and the contracts for the building have been signed, says a Cameron, W. Va., special. J. S. Paulson, of Sebring, who is superintending the erection of the building for the same company's plant in the West End, made the above statement and said work on the foundation for their building in the East End would be started within the next 10 days. When the two factories are completed and in operation they will employ about 600 people. The manager expects to have the pottery in the West End in operation by the 15th of July.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

The Electric Porcelain works is making extensive improvements and alterations to its plant on Elm street. The two porcelain kilns will be finished this week, with the exception of the band irons that are to be placed around the stacks. The building that will be erected is to be put up in the rear of the plant and will be of brick, two stories in height, and will cover a space of ground 60x80 feet. The building will contain the grog pans and other expensive machinery, and the total amount of money to be expended is $15,000. The kilns are badly needed, as the company is rushed with orders.

A ROOSEVELT JARDINIER.

The Wheeling Pottery company designers are now at work on a new jardiner, christened the Roosevelt jardiner, which will not be publicly exhibited until the World's fair at St. Louis next year, where this company will have a large and varied exhibit of its products. The design will be much more elaborate than the Dewey jardiner, presented to the admiral on his visit to Wheeling in 1900.

Detroit, May 14.—For two hours Lord Minto, governor general of Canada, Lady Minto and Lady Ellen Elliott, their daughter, accompanied by Major Mande and Captain Graham, the governor general's aides-de-camp, were the guests of the city of Detroit. Thousands of people enthusiastically cheered the governor general and his party as they drove through the streets from the ferry landing to the Russell house, where a reception was held, at the close of which the distinguished visitors were tendered a luncheon.

A FAMOUS SHRINE IN AN OHIO TOWN

AN UNPRETENTIOUS CHURCH ATTRACTS MANY PILGRIMS.

The Sick And Afflicted Yearly Flock to Carey to Seek Relief.

Carey, O., May 14.—For the past three days the patrons' feast, a ceremony that attracts a large amount of attention and has made the town of Carey famous, has been in progress here. On the last day occurs the general pilgrimage when the sick and afflicted from all parts of the country visit the shrine of Our Lady of Consolation Church with the hope that they may be miraculously cured.

It is not generally known that in this little village there is located one of what are known as two healing shrines in the United States, and that scarcely a day goes by but the lame, sick or blind seek relief before its altar. The church is an unpretentious affair of frame and yet its rude construction and uninviting appearance do not in the least detract from its exclusive distinction.

The power to heal is attributed to a face simile of the Luxembourg statue of the Holy Virgin and her child, which is accredited to be of divine origin. The statue here also contains a part of the original, which was obtained by papal decree expressly for the purpose. In the sixteenth century the European province of Luxembourg was visited by a pestilence. The survivors erected a church to the memory of the Holy Virgin. When the dedication day arrived a statue of the Holy Virgin and her child was found upon the altar. It was accepted as of divine origin and many miraculous cures are attributed to it.

Among the many people from the vicinity of Luxembourg who migrated to the United States, a colony settled at Carey. This little band determined to build a church and the structure was started in 1896. Owing to a lack of funds the work was suspended after the foundation had been completed and it remained in this condition for six years. Father Gloden, who was located at the nearby town of Berwick, took the matter up and succeeded in raising the necessary funds to complete the work and in 1875 it was ready to dedicate.

The colony from Luxembourg urged Father Gloden to make a pilgrimage to the mother country and endeavor to secure a piece of the original statue of the Virgin and her child. The priest consented, and a trip for the special purpose was made. Success not only crowned his efforts, but he had a facsimile of the statue made in which he embodied a small piece from the original.

Pope Leo has further endowed the church by recognizing it officially as a pilgrimage church. He has recognized it still further by sending direct from Rome, with duly authenticated letters, an antependium and altar outfit. The antependium is of the finest silk, embroidered in gold, and bears the coat of arms of the pope—the tiara, the cedar tree, and stars—Lumen de Coelo—"Light from Heaven." The antependium is hung in a prominent place before the altar.

The fourth Sunday after Easter, the ceremony, which is styled the patrons' feast, was observed. It was participated in by a number of visiting priests.

MAY BE NO STRIKE

Negotiations Renewed Between Officials and Men on Great Northern.

CONCESSIONS WERE OFFERED

By the Company and Action Is Deferred Until After Conference—Business Men's Committee Is Responsible for Present Conditions.

St. Paul, May 14.—No strike was declared on the Great Northern railway and affairs have assumed a much more encouraging aspect. Negotiations between the committee representing the men and the officials of the road, which were broken off on Tuesday, have been renewed and the outlook is for an amicable settlement. Neither side will say what concessions, if any, have been offered by the road, but that concessions have been offered and that they are more favorable than any made previously is evidenced by the fact that the calling of a strike has been deferred until after the conference.

The committee of business men from St. Paul and Minneapolis which Tuesday night secured the consent of the grievance committee to attempt to bring about an amicable arrangement of the difficulty is understood to be largely responsible for present conditions. They held a conference with the grand officers and the general committee during the day. The demands of the men were discussed, Messrs. Garretson and Newmen, representing respectively the conductors' association and the trainmen's brotherhood, fully explaining their side of the controversy. The stand they took was that all other transcontinental roads have granted the demands made by the unions with reference to the running of double headers, and that if the Great Northern should be given greater concessions than have been granted the other roads the latter will charge a breach of faith on the part of the grand officers. The business men's committee urged the men to refrain from tying up the road.

Mr. Garretson declared that the men would not allow any one to exceed them in yielding, once a spirit of yielding should be shown by the company. He further stated that all preparations had been made for the declaration of a strike and that unless some tangible offer were made on behalf of the company looking to concessions of a satisfactory character a strike would be declared.

After their conference with the men the business men's committee waited on General Manager F. E. Ward and heard the company's side of the case. Then a conference was arranged between the general manager and the grievance committee, at which members of the business men's committee were also present. This conference lasted until evening and at its close Chairman Cooper, of the business men's committee, announced that Mr. Garretson had given assurance that no strike would be ordered and that the conference would be resumed at 10 o'clock in the morning, with every prospect of a successful termination.

While all those who were present at the conference were extremely reticent, it was learned from an authoritative source that concessions satisfactory to the men had been offered by the road and that all that remained to be done was to decide upon certain matters of detail.

SEEKS TO GARNISHEE

Young Woman After the Property of Edward Shive, Who Left Lisbon Suddenly.

Lisbon, May 14.—(Special.)—The case of Miss Carlisle, of Lisbon, against Edwin Shive, in which the plaintiff seeks to garnishee property alleged to belong to the defendant and to be now in the hands of Lavin Cope, of Lisbon, was submitted to Judge Ambler yesterday afternoon. Shive was a partner of Cope in the mercantile business here and on his disappearance on the night of April 17 when he learned that Miss Carlisle was about to prefer a charge against him, Cope, she alleges, disposed of all his belongings, including notes aggregating $500, to him.

The court now has under advisement the question whether the holder of these notes can be made to pay a judgment in favor of the young woman. W. H. Spence is the plaintiff's attorney.

DISCOVERED A LEAKING BOTTLE

And Drank Contents—One Dead at Hospital and Others in Serious Condition.

Cincinnati, May 14.—As the result of drinking what they thought was whisky five men employed at the Adams Express warehouse were poisoned, one dying at the hospital. The other four men are in a serious condition.

A bottle was received from Memphis addressed to Kate Nobbe in this city. In handling the bottle J. R. Ficker discovered a leak and remarked, "This is a nice bottle of booze—too good to let go to waste."

One of the men procured a tin cup and each took a drink. They became violently ill in a few moments and were rushed to the city hospital. Ficker died on arriving there, while William Stevens, George Eberle, Louis Burbank and William Daly are reported in a serious condition. When seen Mrs. Nobbe said: "I can't say what the bottle contained, but it was undoubtedly sent by a woman who is employed by a relative of mine in Memphis. He visited me three weeks ago and since that time I have been receiving packages and obscene letters from Memphis. It is jealousy on her part."

Mrs. Nobbe is employed at the Honing hotel here. It was found that the bottle contained arsenic and whisky.

Salem Man Elected.
Marietta, O., May 14.—Dr. A. C. Yengling, of Salem, O., was elected department commander, G. A. R., of Ohio, over B. M. Moulton, of Lima, by a vote of 277 to 249. C. H. Newton, of Marietta, was elected senior vice commander; John T. Booth, of Cincinnati, junior vice commander. The place of next meeting has not been selected, but Tiffin is conceded to be the place. The attendance is the largest in the history of the Grand Army of Ohio. The parade was two miles long.

Body Will Be Exhumed.

Lorain, O., May 14.—At a conference between Detectives Mintz and Goldsmith, Coroner French and County Prosecutor Stroup, at Elyria, it was decided to exhumate the body of Agatha Reichlin at Elyria. This action is taken to satisfy the authorities as to whether Miss Reichlin had been choked into unconsciousness before she had been assaulted with the heavy stone.

EMPLOYERS FORM ASSOCIATION

Members Banded Together to Fight
Organized Labor in Kansas City.

Kansas City, May 14.—The 6,000 employers of labor in this city have banded together to fight the members of labor unions who use the boycott to gain their ends and have organized "The Employers' Association."

The association decided to refuse to deliver goods to those places where non-union men or non-union made goods are discriminated against. This action has resulted from a brewing company, employing union men, refusing to deliver beer to a hotel bar until the union was recognized. A member of the association retaliated by refusing to deliver ice to the saloons handling this particular brewing company's beer, with the result that the delivery of beer to the offending hotel was immediately resumed. Several persistent boycotts have been laid against restaurants and various branches of trade in Kansas City within the past year because of refusal of employers to recognize unions.

Uncle Reuben's Opinion.

"They may say what they please, but listen—these men have taken all kinds of laxatives, purgatives and cathartics but when it comes to one that is easy and pleasant to take, mild and gentle in its action, and that makes one want an extra slice of bacon for breakfast, just give me Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and you may have all the laxative syrups, dyspepsia medicines and pills, little or big, there is in this country. Them Tablets surely do make one feel joyful." For sale by Alvin & Balger.

Joy reigns in the household of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Finley, of St. George street, over the arrival of baby boy, born this morning.

Henry Chambers is excavating for a six-room house, W. C. Smith is also putting one up alongside it. Both houses are to be built on Erie street.

John Williamson, of Chaffinville, who had his fingers so badly mashed in Schmelzenbach's stone quarry, is getting along nicely. Only one of the fingers will be crippled.

THE CONFERENCE

WHOLLY HARMONIOUS

Rivermen and Government Engineers Agree in Regard to East Liverpool Bridge Plans.

In regard to locating the new bridge, which is intended to span the Ohio river at East Liverpool, the conference between the projectors, the bridge committee of Harbor 25 and the United States engineers appears to have been a harmonious one, says a report from Pittsburg.

The bridge committee of Harbor 25 agreed to accept the site proposed by the bridge company, with the understanding that the first pier on the West Virginia side be located at the water's edge, with the second pier 800 feet out on the river, which will be the channel span.

It is expected that the site proposed with the piers located as suggested by the harbor committee will be satisfactory to all, with the exception possibly of the bridge company, which claims that the change in the location of the piers will add somewhat to the cost of the bridge. The matter is now in the hands of the United States engineers.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." Sale by Alvin & Bulger.

RESTORES PLEASING PLUMPNESS

Mi-o-na Sold Under Druggist Will Reed's "No Cure No Pay" Plan.

A man or woman might as well starve outright as to take food into the stomach and not have it digested, yet in East Liverpool, as well as in every other town and city, there are many people who are thin, pale and seem underfed, simply because the food they eat is not digested, the stomach is too weak to do its proper work, and the food fails to make good blood and firm flesh.

Mi-o-na, the wonderful flesh-forming food and scientific remedy for the cure of dyspepsia, taken after meals, mingles with the food and enables it to assimilate and be readily digested so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness. No one can use it for a week or ten days without a noticeable gain in weight. It is the only remedy used in the treatment of stomach troubles where the money is refunded if it does not cure. Statistics show that out of every hundred people who commence the use of Mi-o-na, 98 will find a gain in weight and a restoration of health and strength.

Any one who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, who has to take thought as to what to eat, and when, or who is thin, weak, scrawny and emaciated can place 50c on deposit with Will Reed and take home a box of Mi-o-na. If the remedy does not regulate digestion, cure dyspepsia and give a noticeable increase in good, firm flesh, he will refund the money without any questions.

BODY IN THE WELL

Italian's Story of Murder in a Fight at Empire May Prove True.

Toronto, May 14.—At Empire, three miles from here, a fight occurred a month ago, among Italians in an old planing mill. A young Italian claimed his 15-year-old brother had been murdered and thrown in a deep old well inside the mill. A partial investigation was then made, but nothing found. Last night workmen cleaning out the well found blood and a piece of a man's gory scalp, while the awful stench was such that work had to be suspended. There now seems little doubt but the man's body is in the well.

LOCAL FEDERATION ENTERTAINS

Senator Hanna, Archbishop Ireland and John Mitchell Make Addresses.

New York, May 14.—The executive committee of the local federation entertained the visiting committee at dinner at the Ashland house. Lewis Nixon, chairman of the executive committee, presided. Senator Hanna, Archbishop Ireland and John Mitchell were among the speakers.

Senator Hanna said labor troubles are to be deplored because they threaten the commercial supremacy of the country and Archbishop Ireland added that Europe is hoping that labor strikes will restore to Europe the markets of the world, now being

SENATOR MARCUS A. HANNA, threatened by American competition. "In New York," Senator Hanna said, "the situation is far from hopeless and I simply wish to make an appeal to you, gentlemen of the local federation, to stand upon the principle just put forth by the national federation that if the employer and employee are honest with each other difficulties will soon be ended."

Archbishop Ireland, President J. D. Underwood, of the Erie, and John Mitchell urged the conciliation committee of the local body to use all endeavor to bring about a settlement of the reported difficulties in the building trades.

GIVES RELIEF QUICKLY

Regular Use of Hyomei Cures Most Stubborn Case of Catarrh.

No other medicine gives such prompt relief as Hyomei in the treatment of catarrh.

The first breath of this remedy soothes and heals the irritated and smarting air passages, and the regular use for a few days or weeks will cure the most stubborn case. Some of the reports from those who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei read like miracles.

John S. Gray, of Richmond Hills, Pa., writes: "I am 82 years old and have been a sufferer with catarrh in the head for 25 or 30 years. I have doctored with many specialists and they all told me that the disease was incurable on account of my age. After using Hyomei a short time I was greatly benefited and now can say that I am entirely cured. It has now been six months since I stopped using the remedy and I still remain cured."

In nearly every town and village of the country can be found those who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. In East Liverpool there are probably over a thousand people whose health has been restored by this remarkable treatment.

Will Reed has sold package after package and every one has been with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not cure. Only two outfits have been returned and in each instance the money was paid back without question.

You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei and your word decides the question as to whether you pay for the remedy or not.

Can you afford to suffer longer with catarrh when you can buy a guaranteed treatment on this plan?

MAY HAVE BEEN MASSACRED

Denver Man Has Grave Fears Regarding Safety of Mother, Sister and Brother.

Denver, May 14.—From a letter written by his father in a hospital at Kishinev, Russia, W. King, of this city, learns that his mother, sister and brother may have been victims of the recent massacre in which hundreds of women and little children were slaughtered by the Russians. Mr. King's father was badly injured and is now in the hospital.

"I can learn nothing of your mother or sister or brother," he writes. "I fear they are among the victims. The street ran with blood. Children were dragged from their mothers' arms and hurled against the sides of buildings. Women were caught and slashed to bits by the frenzied Christians. The cry was 'Down with the Jews.' I saw a mother cut open and her unborn babe thrown against a railroad train. Women were held by men while they were mutilated. The number killed will be more than 600. Thousands of homes were burned and all the property destroyed. Dead people lay in the streets in heaps."

FOR COMPULSORY ARBITRATION

Movement to This End Begun by Management of Chicago Railroads.

Chicago, May 14.—A movement has been begun by the management of Chicago railroads to compel labor organizations to agree to submit differences to arbitration whenever negotiations between roads and employees fail to end in agreements. The lead in the movement apparently is being taken by the Rock Island and Burlington and one or two other strong western lines.

The arbitration clause is being proposed with a view of insuring results and increasing the probability of both sides beginning negotiations with a case which they are not afraid to submit to the public. If the railroads cannot induce the labor organizations to agree to the ultimate arbitration plan it is likely that before long a general arbitration board will be selected to represent all railroads territorially allied.

FASHION NOTES.

Italian and Irish Lace—Simplicity in Fashion.

Imitations of coarse Italian lace will be popular as the season advances and will prove a rival to the Irish lace, but the latter is smarter for the adornment of outside garments owing to its raised figures.

The pelerine or little loose sack coat may be skillfully manipulated by the amateur. The chief difficulty in making a pelerine is the fitting on the shoulders, and the amateur must guard against making the woman with already sloping shoulders look ridiculous.

The keynote of the best fashions is simplicity—costly simplicity if you like, but still simplicity. Great discretion is used in the matter of trimmings. The worst of trimmings is that once they are used the untrimmed are apt to overdo them. We become a little tired of cords, passementerie and Armenian embroideries. They are all very well in their way, but directly they are overdone and copied in all sorts of cheap stuff the smart woman will have none of them.

The woman who is unable to spend much on her gown had better put it into cut instead of trimming. The illustration shows an evening coat of black lace.

PICTURESQUE EFFECTS.

Rare and Becoming Gowns of Chiffon and Lace.

The picture dinner gown was at one time known as the tea gown. Now tea gowns are chiefly known by the name of picture frocks. It is difficult to draw any definite line between the two, for once we arrive at the floppy, comfortable gown it is exclusively for lounging purposes and is known as the peignoir.

With a very few exceptions there is no doubt that the picture frock is excessively becoming. Chiffon and lace of course form the chief elements in the composition of the picturesque toilet. Other fabrics are oriental satin, crepe de chine and all such clinging and yet sumptuous looking materials. Old brocades are being used but sparingly and in soft weaves. All the soft fabrics of the hour lend themselves admirably to the picturesque.

Fichus of white lace or point d'esprit edged with lace add greatly to the appearance of such a gown.

Hemstitched and also fagoted materials are to be bought by the yard beautifully made.

The picture shows a house gown made of soft plaited silk and trimmed with an odd effect of heavy lace.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a ringing sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Commenting on the investigation which it has conducted concerning the delay in court proceedings and its cause, the State Journal, of Columbus, says: "The facts are that the common pleas courts of Ohio have fewer cases brought before them now than five or even ten years ago, yet they are further behind with those on the docket than they were then. This is not because the common pleas judges do not work. The majority of them at least work longer hours than most laboring men and harder than members of the bar who earn like incomes. Nor will the remedy most often suggested in such cases—more judges—meet the situation. The only remedy lies in a radical reform of judicial procedure in the common pleas courts. The present rules are antiquated. They foster and encourage delay. They permit too much time to elapse before a case can be tried. They require the judges to give too much thought and attention to technical, legal quibbles before the merits of a case are heard. They enable attorneys to drag trials out by pettifoggish cross-examination. There is a crying need for a reform of the code of legal procedure. It would relieve the common pleas judges of a vast mass of technical quibbling by attorneys and would expedite the trial of cases. The present condition is a disgrace to Ohio. The next legislature should take up the whole question and see that the laws are amended so that court procedure will be prompt and business-like."

It is fitting that President Roosevelt should dedicate the monument at San Francisco which commemorates Dewey's victory at Manila. The first spadeful of earth was turned for the monument by the late President McKinley on the occasion of his visit to San Francisco two years ago. The monument, the cost of which was about $55,000, subscribed by the people of that city, consists of a tall column of granite, resting on a broad base, at the bottom of which are four buttresses, which will support figures of heroic size. The emblematic figure in bronze at the top of the shaft is twelve feet in height and represents Victory. Admiral Dewey is perhaps the first of naval heroes to see his exploits recorded on a monument and he deserves all the honors that have been thrust upon him.

Its a poor injunction rule that won't work both ways. The boot is now on the other foot at Omaha in the existing labor troubles. A district court judge has issued an injunction against the business men and proprietors even more sweeping than that issued last week against the unionists by the federal court. The order restrains the business men from refusing to sell goods to dealers who employ union labor, prevents them from boycotting union labor, requires the Business Men's association to cease holding meetings or conspiring against the unions, or in any way interfering with the unions in the management of their affairs.

The chief of police is to be commended for his determination to rid the city of vagrants. There is small excuse for vagrancy here, as there is work to be had by all able-bodied men who seek it. For the sick and penniless places are provided. Those without visible means of support can take their choice between going to work and relieving the city of their presence.

E. M. Bigelow, director of public works, in Pittsburg, is not the only man who can gaze upon his own monument. Admiral Dewey can now do likewise if he will take the trouble to go to San Francisco.

Bishop Lawrence, of the Episcopal church, is undoubtedly right. There is more need of personal revision than a change of church names or creeds.

The Morocco rebels are likely to get a thorough tanning unless they get off the war path.

EX-CHIEF THOMPSON IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

Has Secured a Responsible Position
With a Well Known Local Firm.

Former Chief of Police Thomas V. Thompson was not long, after the expiration of his term of office, in securing a lucrative position, it being announced today that he had connected himself with the real estate and insurance firm of George H. Owen & Co. Just what part of the work Mr. Thompson will take up has not been announced this afternoon. Any part of it, however, will be new to him, but his long experience in business matters and his hustling abilities are such as to warrant the prediction that he will be eminently successful.

The many friends of the ex-chief will be pleased to learn that he has secured a comfortable berth and is to continue a citizen of East Liverpool.

threats and heaping abuse on the pair.

Finally Mrs. Davis demanded to know on what authority the stranger made such charges and he produced a marriage certificate and a letter from the girl's mother. Upon the certificate appeared the name of George Hill. Mrs. Davis then demanded that both the men leave the premises, she permitting the woman to remain for the night. They left in company, quarreling and evidently on the verge of coming to blows.

The night was one of terror to Mrs. Davis, as her husband was out of town. Fearing further trouble she called in several neighbors. Both of the men returned to the neighborhood and were heard prowling around the house during the night. Evidently the woman's companion did not fear violence at the hands of the husband, as he appeared at the house this morning and went to his rooms. A short time later the husband appeared and learning of Tomosco's presence demanded that he be ordered away. Tomosco refused to leave the place until Mrs. Davis promised that the husband would not witness his departure. Upon the pretext of wanting to reread the marriage certificate and letter, Mrs. Davis induced Hill to accompany her to the kitchen. She was almost frantic over the trouble the couple were causing her and ready to do almost anything to be rid of them.

Tomosco was as good as his word, but he had no intention of leaving alone. When he crept down the stairs the woman was with him, but the husband's suspicions were not aroused for a few moments. Then he made a wild dash to the street and started in pursuit of the fleeing couple. He overtook them and this time did not stop to bandy words. He attacked Tomosco with his fists and a desperate fight ensued, finally ended by interference on the part of the woman.

The trio then proceeded to the central portion of the city and boarded a car for Wellsville. Their movements, after their arrival in that city, have not been recorded.

During his wild talk Hill confided to Mrs. Davis his belief that the dark-skinned foreigner possessed a hypnotic influence over his wife. He claimed that Tomosco was a bold, bad man and had on other occasions been a participant in similar escapades. He claimed he had been married for a number of years to the woman and that they had one child, evidently the one over which the woman was grieving. Most of their married life has been spent in Ellwood City, Pa. Tomosco and the woman, it is stated, came here from Tiltonville, where both were employed in the art pottery.

It is stated that Hill wanted his wife to return with him to their Pennsylvania home, so that he could expedite a legal separation. The woman agreed, but availed herself of the first opportunity to elude him.

What disposition will be made of the furniture in the rooms at the Davis home was not known late this afternoon. Mrs. Hill will not permit any of the trio to return to their apartments, feeling keenly the trouble that has fallen to her lot. She is entirely above censure in the matter, as there was no reason to suspect the true state of affairs.

MAYOR MAKES APPOINTMENTS

Members of Public Safety Board, Tax Commission and Health Board.

THE SELECTIONS APPROVED

Council Selected a New Constable And Wrestles With the Matter of the Public Service Budget—Wrangle Over Janitor.

The feature of greatest interest at the council meeting last evening was the announcement of the appointments of the mayor. They were as follows:

Board of Public Safety—For four years, Edward S. Martin; for two years, Byron D. Beacom.

Board of Tax Commissioners—For four years, J. J. Grafton; for three years, Andrew Bromann; for two years, William J. Mahoney; for one year, Judge P. M. Smith.

For member of Board of Health—For five years, John E. McQueen.

Every member of the council was present. W. E. Butler appeared in regard to the vacation of the alley which he has asked to be vacated several times. This alley runs from James street to Highland avenue. He asks that it be vacated and he be given the right to level it, as at present it is impossible for vehicles to trespass and acts as a water shed and runs the water onto his property. The ordinance was placed on its third and final reading and passed.

The ordinance for the improving of Lisbon street, by paving from Little Yellow creek bridge to corporation line, after passing two previous readings, was lost on its third, Bissett and Anderson voting no.

A petition signed by the residents of Fourteenth street asking that the street be opened from Commerce street to Hill street, so as to allow residents to have gas and water. This matter was placed in the hands of the ordinance committee for investigation and report at next meeting.

Next the appointments of the mayor or were submitted for approval. It was necessary to vote on each board separately. The board of public safety passed, McDonald voting no. The board of tax commissioners passed, Bissett voting no. J. E. McQueen went through with a unanimous vote.

The filing of the office of constable, made vacant by the resignation of Constable J. H. Morehead, was next disposed of. There were two applicants, P. E. Spies and Dallas Pittinger. A vote was taken by ballot, which resulted in the election of Spies, he receiving four votes and Pittinger three.

A petition from the sewer building contractors was read, asking that permits be issued to none but practical sewer builders. The board of public service was ordered not to issue permits to any but regular builders.

The board of public service was present and explained all about the budget asking for an appropriation for one month's expenses. At first a vote was about to be taken on the whole budget, but on a suggestion from Mr. Stewart each item was taken up separately. The following is the budget: Engineer's department, $565; supervisor of streets, $400; salaries of members, $160; city building janitor, $45; lighting, $500. Mr. O'Grady moved that the amount for the engineer be appropriated, providing the street inspector's salary of $65 and $12 street car fare be subtracted. There was little discussion about the $65, but considerable talking was done about the $12. O'Grady thought he could walk and save this amount. While he would be walking it would cost the city three times that amount in time. This amount it not for the engineer alone, but for his whole corps, tools and everything else. After discussing the matter for some time the $12 was finally added and the $500 was allowed to go through.

Next was the amount for street supervisor, $400, and $75 for having all the paved streets, cleaned, as George Patterson & Co. gave that bid for the work. At first they were going to deduct the $75 from the $100, but after some deliberation both amounts were allowed.

The salaries of $100 went through without a question and also the $500 for lights, but when they came to the $45 for a janitor there was a sudden halt. O'Grady wanted to ignore it altogether. Bissett asked if there was to be a janitor and a building police. Here the mayor came forward and made a lengthy speech. He said an ordinance was passed some years ago in which the duties of the building police were to act as janitor, and that he saw no reason why an extra janitor should be employed at the expense of the city. He could not see the necessity of adding this extra $45 to the city's expense. Bowers said that the board of public service was only doing what the new code says it shall do and asked why the janitor appointed could not be endowed with police authority. Mr. Herbert was asked his opinion in the matter and stated: "All I have to say is, we are doing what the law says we shall do." After a discussion of nearly an hour a vote was taken and every member of council voted against making the appropriation. How it will reach a final settlement cannot be told.

At a recent meeting of the board of public service it granted the gas company the privilege of laying gas mains in several different localities. Mayor Fogo brought this matter up and said the company should be stopped unless it had a franchise. He said: "We should have free light and heat in all public buildings, and if the gas company is made to get a new franchise this can be provided for." The matter was placed with the ordinance committee to make an investigation and report at the next meeting.

Small bills amounting to $21 were ordered paid.

An ordinance granting the Wellsville China company the right to lay a railroad track on Wood street to connect with the belt line was placed on its third and final reading by suspending the rules, but was lost. It was then put on its first reading and passed with Bissett and Anderson voting no. These two men voted no the first time also.

A petition from the C. & F. railroad company, asking the privilege to build a watch box for the watchman between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, the same to extend a short distance over onto the street, but in no way to hinder traffic, was read and passed the final reading. The matter was placed in the hands of the street committee to meet with the railroad company and determine a location. This house or box will be 4x4 feet and will not be a benefit to the company, but to employees.

The sum of $1509.80 was ordered borrowed to make appropriation to the board of public service and the auditor was authorized to issue a warrant on the treasurer for $700, the amount ordered paid at the last meeting. Adjourned.

Ead Effects of a Cut.

The condition of Mrs. H. C. Aughinbaugh's hand does not seem to improve as rapidly as was expected. It was injured about four weeks ago. She went out to a meat wagon and was standing in the rear when the horses took fright and started. She grasped for support and her hand struck a cleaver, cutting a severe gash. The wound was dressed and thought to be getting along well until a week later when it began to swell. Dr. Rex, of this city, and Dr. Rex, of New York, performed an operation, after which both physicians thought it would heal. Two or three days later another operation was necessary.

New Bank Soon to Be Opened at New Cumberland With $100,000 Capital.

A meeting of much importance will be held May 22 by the subscribers to the stock and others interested in the New Cumberland Trust and Savings company. The new concern will start business with a paid in capital of $100,000 and will be of much benefit to Hancock and Brooke counties. At this meeting the organization will be perfected and will engage in business at as early a date after the meeting as possible. The Pittsburg end of the capital will be controlled by the Keystone National bank, of that city, which is favorably impressed with the business that may be developed from this section of the Ohio valley.

It is understood that numerous good opportunities will be taken advantage of in the territory through the representation of local capital, who are well acquainted with much valuable coal territory. It is stated on authority that on the day set for the opening of business that money to the full amount of capital will be placed for the general transaction of business.

PLANS ARE READY

Presbyterian Church Officials Will Meet Tonight to Discuss Building Project.

The trustees and the building committee of the Presbyterian church will hold a meeting this evening, when a blue print of the proposed plans of the church building will be in readiness for the inspection of the church officers. If the plans and specifications agree with the views of the body, immediate steps will be taken toward placing the plans in the hands of contractors for figures for its erection.

The officials are unanimous in their opinion that the building of a church to cost a less amount than has been figured on in the drawing of the plans, or one of smaller seating capacity, would only result in future expenditure of funds. While it is considered quite an undertaking for the present small congregation, it is generally conceded that the building of the church according to the proposed plans will be advisable.

Funeral of Robert Leeper.

The funeral of Robert Leeper, aged about 76 years, was held from his former residence near Hookstown at 2 o'clock today. Mr. Leeper was a well known citizen of Beaver county, Pa., and is survived by his wife and one son, George Leeper, residing close to the homestead. Mr. Leeper was an old member of the United Presbyterian church of Hookstown, of which church he was an elder. The burial took place at Tomlinson's Run cemetery and a number of Chester people attended.

HIS LITTLE SPREE

COST HIM $400

DAVID DOHERTY AWOKE TO FIND FRIENDS AND MONEY GONE.

Pitiful Tale Told By a Man Who Was Arrested Yesterday For Drunkenness.

David Doherty, arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Aufderheide, was released this morning upon the payment of $2 and costs for being drunk. At the hearing before the mayor he told a pitiful story of his experience in the city. He came here about seven weeks ago and commenced canvassing the city for work at his trade, that of a sewing machine adjuster.

Upon his arrival he had nearly $400, money that he had saved after months of hard toil, and intended investing it before long in something that would be of benefit to him. After six weeks in the city he met some doting livers and fell into their hands, starting on a big spree that terminated in his arrest yesterday. When he awoke in the city jail study over his undesirable plight brought to memory the fact of his having had the roll of money when he started with the gang and he turned his pockets inside out with the hope of finding it, but to no avail. It was gone and he has not the least idea who got it or where he was when it was stolen.

Chief Wyman was anxious to get a tip, but could learn nothing that would give him a scintilla of a clue and the unfortunate man was compelled to leave central station almost penniless and without hopes of ever recovering his riches. He also lost a couple of traveling bags while on the drunk, but they were found by an officer last evening.

The police have a clue to the men who were with Doherty and arrests are expected.

The Price of Pleasure.

It is hard for a lovely woman to forego the pleasures of the life which she was created to enjoy and adorn. She may have to be busy all day in office or in store, yet she cannot deny herself the social pleasures which are offered her.

But the fatigue is often too great for her, and she suffers from headache and backache as a consequence of over exertion.

Women who are tired and worn out will find a perfect tonic and nerve in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures headache, backache and the other aches and pains to which women are subject. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I am so pleased with your instructions, I hardly know what thanks to give you for your kind favors," writes Mrs. M. H. Bryant of Iowa. "I suffered so much with great pains in my back and the lower part of my stomach and palpitation of the heart, that at times I could hardly lie down. Could hardly get up in the morning, but after using three bottles of Favorite Prescription and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, I am like a new woman."

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and is held as confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Grand Officers' Report Consumes Greater Part of Second Day's Session.

HEADQUARTERS MAY BE CHANGED

Many Favor Washington as Better Place—Ladies' Auxiliary Have Meeting—Reception Tendered Delegates in Allegheny.

Pittsburg, May 14.—The second day's session of the convention of the Order of Railway Conductors of the United States, Canada and Mexico opened in Old City hall at 1 o'clock.

A good deal of time was taken up in seating some 100 delegates who were late in arriving. From now on to the close of the convention the sessions give every promise of being interesting and exciting. Few changes will be made in the existing laws of the order.

The session was devoted largely to consideration of the grand officers' reports and a review of the work accomplished in the past two years. The delegates are greatly interested in the strike now on in the Mobile and Ohio railroad and eagerly await the report of C. H. Wilkins, grand senior conductor, who has charge of the fight for the conductors.

What promises to be one of the most interesting discussions of the convention is the proposition to move the headquarters of the order from Cedar Rapids, Ia., to Washington, D. C. Many of the conductors believe Washington to be the proper place, while others insist that Cedar Rapids is a more central point for the three countries and that the offices should remain there.

In the morning the delegates visited the works of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company at Charleroi.

The ladies' auxiliary convention opened at 1 o'clock in Thuma's hall, Fifth avenue, with Mrs. J. H. Moore, grand president, in the chair. To complete the roll and seat the delegates took up the greater part of the session. The reports of the grand officers and the various committees were submitted, but no action was taken upon them.

Souvenir Presented President. James D. Phelan then presented to the president a souvenir of the occasion, the work of a native sculptor, representing a bear hunt, reproduced in gold. In accepting the gift President Roosevelt responded in a happy manner to all of the addresses of welcome. His remarks were punctuated by laughter and applause and at the close he was escorted to his carriage by a joint committee of the assembled orders.

The presidential party then proceeded to Van Ness avenue, where thousands of school children had assembled. Every child had a flag, which was waved as the president passed. An incident of the ride was the presentation to the president of a photograph by a little Chinese girl, who was lifted up so that he could shake her hands.

After the review of the children the president drove through the presidio and had a glance at the buildings, the barracks of the different troops and the new fortifications which stand at the entrance to the harbor and command the bay. He continued the drive along the new road and finally reached the golf links on which the military review was held. General MacArthur was in command. The men marched past with the tread of veterans—infantry, artillery and cavalry. Each arm of the service made a most imposing spectacle.

The president complimented General MacArthur and other high officers on the excellent showing of the men and the splendid appearance of the garrison.

Broke Ground for Monument. The presidential party was then escorted through Golden Gate park to the Cliff house, where luncheon was had with members of the executive committee, Governor Pardee, Admiral Bickford and other invited guests. The return was through the park. The party halted at the Baker street entrance, where a large crowd was in waiting to watch the president turn his shovel of earth for the McKinley monument.

Many representatives of the Spanish-American war veterans, the Grand Army of the Republic and the pioneers were in attendance, and they were referred to in eulogistic terms by the president in his remarks. From the park the president was taken directly to the Palace hotel, where he rested until evening.

At Mechanics' pavilion the president made the most important speech he has delivered since he left St. Louis. His subject "Expansion and Trade Development and Protection of the Country's Newly Acquired Possession in the Pacific," together with the advocacy of a greater navy, was one that made his discourse of particular interest to the Californians, and he aroused his auditors to a high pitch of enthusiasm. It was a mighty gathering that listened to the president. The doors of the pavilion were thrown open to the public at an early hour and thousands of citizens thronged the building long before the time scheduled for the arrival of the presidential party.

RECEPTION IN NATIVE SONS' HALL

Thousands of School Children Reviewed—Roosevelt Shakes Hand of Little Chinese Girl, but Does Not Kiss Her—Luncheon at Cliff House.

San Francisco, May 14.—President Roosevelt arose early and at 9 o'clock left the Palace hotel, escorted by a squadron of cavalry. The streets were lined with people, who cheered as the president's carriage passed on the way to Native Sons' hall, where a reception in the president's honor was held. Mayor Schmitt and Secretary Loeb were seated with the chief executive and Rear Admiral Bickford and staff came directly behind.

At the Native Sons' building was assembled a vast throng, which, as the president came in sight, manifested great enthusiasm. The hall itself was crowded with members of the California Society of Pioneers, the Native Sons of the Golden West, the Native Daughters and the veterans of the Mexican war. Ex-Mayor James D. Phelan delivered a brief address of welcome and introduced Henry R. Russ, who spoke briefly, as also did General Stewart, H. R. Noble and Miss Eliza R. Keith.

THE TRAVELS OF COLUMBUS.

Columbus took possession of the island in the name of his sovereign, calling it San Salvador.

FIND HIDDEN CAVALIER AND A BELL.

Actual life is gaining a stronger hold on the people. The tests of life among many are in social and financial success. Sport and amusement have made great inroads on our Sunday congregations. Below all these influences are the lower standards of taste and the grosser immoralities. The power of strong drink has its clutch upon our cities, their people and government; lust is firmly entrenched; gambling is unsettling habits of industry; many forms of temptation are undermining the characters of hosts of youth. All these influences are potent enemies of the Christian faith.

In view of such conditions the bishop deprecated the discussion now going on in diocesan conventions of the question whether the name of the church should be changed, and concluded thus: "The truth is, my brethren, that there is one thing that has all in this church do need—bishops, clergy and laity—and that is a more personal revision of our responsibility to God and a closer abiding in His presence."

No Steps to Fight Injunction.

Omaha, May 14.—Quiet prevailed in Omaha and business was resumed by some proprietors who have been closed by the strike. The injunction issued by Judge Dickinson against the employers has caused excitement among business men. What steps they will take, if any, to carry the matter to higher courts has not been decided upon, but a meeting of the business men's association will be held Friday to consider the situation. The restraining order is acknowledged to be a precedent in the matter of injunctions and has put an entirely new factor into the strike situation.

Shear Plant Reopens.

Fremont, O., May 14.—There was no demonstration when the Claus shear plant reopened, although a large crowd of men had gathered in the neighborhood. Scarcely a score of workmen returned to work. The three negro prisoners who took part in the shooting affray of Saturday night are still in jail at Norwalk.

Objected to Free Puff.

John Knapp of the St. Louis Republic had little use for press agents, and it took a mighty shrewd man to get a free puff from him. He never would publish a lawyer's or a doctor's name if he could avoid it, for fear they might derive some benefit from the free advertisement. It is said that one morning mention was made in the Republic of a man having died of Bright's disease. Old man Knapp hunted up the proofreader and called him into the private office.

"Why did you let that get into the paper?" asked the old man, indicating with his forefinger the objectionable paragraph.

"I don't see but that's all right," said the reader.

"You don't, eh?" snapped old man Knapp. "You don't, eh? Do you think we want to advertise that man Bright for nothing? He never had an ad. in this paper in his life."

Manx Cats.

The peculiar breed of cats found in the Isle of Man differs from others only in that they have no tails, and the lack thereof is the insoluble puzzle to naturalists. Since it has become the fashion to explain everything by the principles of evolution, two theories have been offered—one that, owing to the limited range and lack of dense forests, the original cats had no use for tails, and consequently they (the tails, not the cats) gradually atrophied for lack of use and became rudimentary; another that the primitive Manx cut off all their cats' tails and in the course of time developed a tailless breed. One thing is certain—the cats are there, and they have no tails.

NO ACTION TAKEN AGAINST RAILROAD

President of Public Service Board Says Council Must Deal With It.

A QUESTION OF AUTHORITY

Raised Which Presents Several Different Phases—Different Sections of the Code Which Apparently Do Not Harmonize.

President Taylor and Jacob Shenkel, of the board of public service, held a meeting last evening for the purpose of transacting considerable business of importance, but owing to the sickness of the third member of the board, W. L. Smith, who became suddenly ill while in Wellsville yesterday afternoon, making it impossible for him to be present, there was but little accomplished.

When the meeting was called to order there were several interested citizens present and the following city officials had assembled by request of the board: City Solicitor Davidson, City Auditor Davidson, City Engineer Kelly, Supt. Morley, of the water works, and Superintendent of Highways Dickey.

Clerk Gipper had been served with the order from council demanding that the board of public service take immediate steps to have the officials of the C. & P. railroad remove the switch which lies on Water street, undeniably city property. President Taylor raised an immediate objection to the interference by the board in any manner with the railroad company. He stated that he did not think it the duty of the board to enforce any ordinance or resolution created by any former council and that he would not favor action until perfectly satisfied on the matter.

Solicitor Davidson was asked for his opinion and he without hesitation expressed it as his belief that the board should execute the order, arguing that council is a legislative body. He also maintained that the order was not the result of the creation by the old council, but because the present council wants the property vacated. He was not, however, as clear as he wished to be on the subject, and had no objection to deferring action.

From a perusal of the code it is learned that the question that has arisen in this particular case is a perplexing one and one wherein careful judgment is necessary. Sections of the code pertaining to the subject are very conflicting. Section 28: "In all municipal corporations council shall have the care, supervision and control of public highways, streets, avenues, alleys, sidewalks, public grounds, bridges, viaducts and viaducts within the corporation, and shall cause the same to be kept open and in repair and free from nuisance; and with respect to the dedication, opening and vacation of streets, as well as labor upon them, etc."

Section 140: "The directors of public service shall supervise the improvement and repair of streets, avenues, alleys, lands, lanes, squares, wharves, docks, landings, market houses, bridges, viaducts, aqueducts, sidewalks, sewer drains, ditches, culverts, ship channels, streams and water courses; the lighting, sprinkling and cleaning of all public places; and the construction of all public improvements and public works, except as otherwise provided in this act."

After reading the two above sections the question very naturally arises: "Which, council or the board of public works, is required to look after city property?"

Monroe Patterson asked the board to grant him the privilege of placing scales in front of the Patterson machine works on Walnut street. After promising to clean and keep clean the street he was given the permission.

The much-needed street scraper will be in the hands of Supt. Dickey before many weeks have passed. Had the full membership of the board been present last evening a bid no doubt would have been accepted for the furnishing of one. There were several bids submitted, but they were laid over until the next meeting, which will likely be held before the end of the week.

Auditor Davidson's compiled report showing the condition of the city's finances was submitted and carefully investigated. The board thought it expedient that some action be taken and will assist so far as they are empowered in relieving the situation.

THE BROTHERHOOD WELL SATISFIED

Ed Menge, the new secretary, will become a citizen of East Liverpool, the duties of his office making it imperative that he be with the president. There is not a more popular man in the entire city of Wheeling than Mr. Menge and a better qualified man for the position could not have been found in the ranks of the Brotherhood. That his election was an entire surprise is not a reflection upon his candidacy. He occupied a rather novel position in the contest up to the time of the voting and until then had practically no chance to win. But one of the peculiar contingencies, incident to such a contest, arose and at once became the logical candidate.

On the first ballot for secretary John T. Wood had but eight votes less than a majority of the entire number. He was the favorite candidate among a number of those high in the councils of the organization and the delegates were led to believe that a slate had been made, which included Mr. Wood for secretary and S. W. Moore for treasurer. This belief drew the fire of all the delegates who were opposed to slate making upon Mr. Wood and had the effect of cementing the forces of the two other candidates. This proved to be a stronger combination than that supporting the alleged slate and on the second ballot Mr. Wood lost ground and Mr. Menge gained heavily. The jiggermen and klhmen are reported to have been at odds on the candidates, the former supporting Mr. Menge, Local No. 6, of Wheeling, has no complaint to make over the distribution of the offices, as two of them are from that local.

There was quite a contest over the selection of the two delegates to represent the Brotherhood at the next convention of the American Federation of Labor. None of the candidates had made a canvass for the honor and some of them were not aware that their names would be presented. The candidates were President Duffy, First Vice President Hutchins, Second Vice President Harry Hailes, L. M. Martin, of Camden; John Wood, of East Liverpool, and Frank Van Fossen, of New Castle. Messrs. Hailes and Van Fossen were elected on the first ballot.

By vote of the convention these delegates were instructed to vote and work at the next convention of the Federation for the recognition of the National Stogie Makers' League, whose headquarters are located in Wheeling. For a number of years, the Federation, presumably at the behest of Samuel Gompers, who is a cigar maker, has refused the league recognition, for no reason apparently, except that the cigar makers desire to down the stogie makers in season and out.

Salaries Increased.

Columbiana county postmasters have been recognized generally by the postoffice department at Washington. At the same time that Postmaster Surles, of this city, received word of an increase in salary, the postmasters of Lisbon and East Palestine received similar messages. The one at Lisbon will now receive $2,000 per year and the one at East Palestine $1,700.

How the Fox Settled A Dispute

One day after the Peacock had been walking about and uttering its shrill cries to attract attention to its tail feathers the Goose waddled up from the pond and said:

"I'll admit that your feathers are more highly colored than mine, but if I had such a voice on me I should expect a violent death at any moment."

"What? You, with your hiss and your squawk, dare to criticize my voice?" replied the Peacock.

"I'm no nightingale, but my voice doesn't set everybody's teeth on edge."

"Nor mine. If it isn't as soft as the bluebird's, it's at least as musical as the robin's. You are simply jealous of me."

"I say your voice is like broken glass."

"And yours is like files."

"Ladies," observed the Fox from his lurking place in a bush, "there seems to be a difference of opinion here, and it will please me much to act as referee. Please step this way behind the hedge and let me hear your respective voices."

Both Goose and Peacock knew that the Fox was their common enemy and that they ran a great risk in approaching him, but such was their envy of each other and each so ardently hoped for his favorable opinion that prudence was cast aside.

"That is beautiful—very beautiful," replied the Fox after the Peacock had uttered a few shrieks.

"And I can't see how that could be bettered," he added as the Goose flapped her wings and cried out:

"Didn't I say so?" exclaimed the Peacock.

"And hasn't he decided in my favor?" replied the Goose.

"I'm saying that as far as voices go," remarked the Fox as he made ready, "one of you reminds me of the bobolink and the other of the nightingale, but—"

"But what?" they cried in chorus.

"But the real question is as to plumpness and flavor. Excuse me, will you, while I break your necks and indulge in a little dinner?"

Moral.—Envy and vanity are but weapons in the hands of an enemy.

The Beautiful Turquoise.

The turquoise is considered as a talisman in Persia, its native soil. It preserves its possessor from accidents and insures constancy in affections. The value of the turquoise depends on its shade and its size, especially its thickness. Those classed as belonging to the old rock are valued very highly. Emblem of youth, of sentiment and tender recollections, the turquoise may be called the forget-me-not of stones.
